ANOTHER DEMURRER HAS BEEN FILED BY SANDERS

In the district court yesterday the defendants in the case of Matilda C. Standeford vs. Isabella and Charles Sanders filed a demurrer to the plaintiff's third amended complaint upon several grounds the first of which is because several causes of action have been improperly united in the plaintiff's complaint in that the plaintiff attempts to join a cause of action ex delicto with a cause of action ex contractu. The complaint is also demurred to on the ground that it does not state facts sufficient to constitute causes for action. Notice was also filed in the same case that the defendants will call it up Monday next.

A reply of the plaintiff was filed in the case of P. D. Erickson vs. Mattie A. Swaney et al. in which the plaintiff denies all the allegations in the defendants answer.

THE BAPTIST WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION

The Baptist Woman's Missionary union of El Paso county met yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Mt. Olivet Baptist church. Mrs. J. C. Bale of the First Baptist church occupied the chair. The devotional meeting was led by Mrs. Duncan Lamont. During the session until the noon hour reports were heard from all the mission circles. The ladies of Mt. Olivet church served unique and excellent lunch. The attendance was very large.

Miss Frederickson, a returned missionary from Burmah, gave a stirring address on the foreign work.

Miss Bertha of the Mt. Olivet church recited a selection entitled "A Living Sacrifice." Miss Rose Clark made an appeal for home mission work, speaking especially of the Mexicans and their needs. The meeting was altogether excellent and inspiring.

The officers for the ensuing year are: Mrs. James A. Hayerafft, president; Mrs. J. B. Smith, vice president; Mrs. Griffin, secretary.

During the session Mr. Edwards sang a solo and Mrs. Lamont and Miss Love of Colorado City rendered a pleasing duet.

Miss Frederickson will speak at Colorado City Baptist church at 3 p. m. next Sunday and at the Swedish Baptist church, Colorado Springs, at 8 p. m.

J. N. Ellison, commercial agent of the Denver & Rio Grande in this city, went to Denver yesterday on a short business trip.

Senator Teller's Address

HIS CONDEMNATION OF THE POPULISTS.

THE GREAT PARTY OF THE PEOPLE.

Denver Oct. 17.—On September 11 Senator Henry M. Teller delivered an address at Coliseum hall in this city that was in the nature of a campaign speech. That was in the interest of Congressman Shafroth, Democratic candidate for governor. In view of recent events Senator Teller's speech will no doubt interest the people of the state. The following is a part of that speech:

There are other questions I will refer to. One is the tariff question and I am told that it were best to discuss the tariff question. I am told that they have talked that subject dry; that it is an old stale story and that the protective system is worn out and failing and disrepute among the people. I don't believe it. I believe that when the question is fairly presented by the two political parties in this year 1902 the people and an audience free trade in the Dun-Bell-Gaffey-Bradstreet and American industry [illegible] that the American people will not find the system which has been in vogue for 30 years to be ruthlessly disregarded.

What is to [illegible] the success of the opposition party of the Democratic party and the election of a Democratic house and a Democratic senate? If they are true to their declaration [illegible] they shall have studiously avoided any discussion of the interests of the American [illegible] of American industries.

They say that it is an opportunity to do more than to buy a tariff for them. We say that it is within the province of the intelligent—that it is the highest policy of good government that in legislation of this kind we shall have great attention to the wants and interests of the laboring and producing people of this country. In that of my colleagues I have felt compelled to go into the tariff question in detail. [illegible] to you that in 1861 we adopted the present system of protection to American manufactures and American labor. [illegible] to you that since 1861 you have not had [illegible] of prosperity to the whole people of the United States and to all [illegible]. We have progressed as no nation on earth ever did on the face of the earth in those 41 years. We have from a little [illegible] comparatively poor as a united nation become the richest and the greatest nation of the world. We have added to our wealth alone [illegible] upon the entire wealth of Great Britain, Ireland and Scotland.

They say that if we had free trade we would have more commerce, greater prosperity and cheaper goods, and yet I find in looking over tonight the letter of acceptance of the two candidates of the third party (Populist party) that they declare that for several years products have been created in this country at an absolute loss. How much cheaper can you get them? If they have been produced at a loss can you get them much lower? We have tried this system. We find the country when the war broke out, poor. We have been taking out of our rich mines $30,000,000 to $60,000,000 in gold for a number of years and yet we did not have in the country as much gold as was produced in any three years of that time. What has become of it? We have sent it abroad to pay for the manufactured goods brought to this country. We changed all that when we adopted the protective tariff. But we are told that if we had free trade we would increase our commerce. Look at the [illegible]. Look how it has increased under the tariff. Last year we sent abroad more than one billion dollars of American products, one hundred and forty millions more in value than we have ever been able to send out at any other time in our history, and we have brought almost as much within two hundred millions, so that our trade with foreign nations was more than one billion eight hundred millions last year.

Since 1879 when we had practically passed the abnormal conditions growing out of the war and when we settled down to [illegible] business we began to export more than we imported and since that time we have exported more than we have imported by more than $1,500,000,000, almost $1,500,000,000 more in value than all the gold in circulation in the United States today.

Do you believe that with a system that would enable foreigners to manufacture their goods on foreign soil and sell them here we would have exported more than we imported? Do you believe that there would have been as much wealth in this country today as there is under the present system? There is no nation under the sun that has progressed as it has for 41 years and there is only one nation which is comparable to us in the way of prosperity and that is protective France.

Do you believe if all the cloth we wear in the United States were manufactured in foreign countries and sold at a little less price it possible that this country would be benefited by that? What would become of the [illegible] women and children who are manufacturing clothing who are now cutting the farmers products and who are contributing in every way to the prosperity of this country? The only people who are happy and prosperous and the only people who have progressed, are the people who give to every man and every woman particular thing to do. Diversity of pursuits is absolutely essential to civilization and high morals. One man may make a coat and another may work in a mine, one man may be a good farmer, and a poor farmer, may be a good mechanic. When you are doing all these things when you are giving to every man an opportunity to exercise his talent, whatever it may be then there comes as it has come to us prosperity and progress as a general rule.

Our welfare depends largely upon our political affiliations and political relationships. We may, I repeat, have made some mistakes, but on the whole have you any right to complain?

But you say, this question is near to you and you want it settled. Now let us settle it as we have settled those questions heretofore. Inside of our party and not out. For 41 years there has not been a page of progressive history written that has not been written by the Republican party. No great measure touching our interests that has not been the work of the Republican party. I know that we might have done all this, and have become unworthy of the confidence of the people and the people might leave us and go somewhere else. But is it true that there is any reason to discuss the Republican party? Is there any reason to suppose that we will not deal with this question as we have dealt with all the great questions which if not as wisely as we might, we have at least dealt more wisely than any other people in the world. To me the Republican party stands for something great. It stands for that which is best in politics. It stands for that which is for the best interests of the whole people everywhere.

We have multiplied agencies for labor and if there should come now here and there a disorganized condition of society if there should be strikes it is not attributable to the faults of legislation. It is attributable to conditions beyond the control of any political party and which will come to any nation that opens its doors as we have opened ours to the nations of the whole wide world.

If there is one [illegible] that who claims that we have not fulfilled our duties according to the highest governmental policy let him come here and I will give him the balance of my time to tell where in the face of the earth he can find a nation so well off as we are today, prosperous and with so much intelligence with so much to be proud of, and so much to hop for as in this land of ours.

I REPEAT IT AGAIN TO MY THE REPUBLICAN PARTY STANDS FOR ALL THAT IS GOOD AND I WILL PAY IT WHEN IT CEASES TO BE THE AGENT FOR GOOD BUT I SHALL NO LEAVE IT FOR PEOPLE WHO ARE FULL OF ALL SORTS OF ECCENTRIC NOTIONS FOR THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT TO TRY OF MEASURES WHICH HAVE NEVER BEEN TRIED OR WHICH IF THEY HAVE BEEN TRIED HAVE BEEN CONDEMNED. I HAVE A PART IN THE HISTORY OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY EVERY PAGE WRITTEN SINCE 1856 BY THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IS A PART OF MY HERITAGE AND BELONGS TO ME IF I PREFER SOMEWHAT ABOUT SOME THINGS IN THE WHOLE I THINK THAT IT HAS THE GREATEST AND BEST PRODUCTIONS OF RESULTS AND HISTORY. I DO NOT PROPOSE TO TRADE IT OFF FOR THE UNTRIED ECCENTRICITIES OF I MAY SO SAY OF THE THIRD PARTY, OR ANY OTHER PARTY.

BEEF COMBINE

By Associated Press.

Trenton N. J. Oct. 17.—The U. S. Packing company which is understood to be the Beef combine was incorporated here today with an authorized capital of $1,000,000. It is understood that this amount will be subsequently increased to $500,000,000. The company is authorized to purchase and sell in cattle and other live stock and to carry on the business of butchers packers storekeepers and to construct and operate steamship lines, etc. The capital stock is divided into one-half preferred and one half common. The dividends are to be paid upon the preferred stock semi annually but are not cumulative. The dividends, however are to be at no time less than 4 per cent or more than 6 per cent. per annum. The incorporators of the company are Horace S. Gould, Frederick K. Howard and Kenneth K. McLaren, all of whom are clerks in a New Jersey corporation agency.

FOR EVERGREEN

LEGISLATURE WILL BE ASKED TO PASS A LAW

To Create Board of Trustees to Handle the Proposed Perpetual Endowment Fund

When the next legislature meets it will be asked to enact a law providing for a board of trustees to govern the Evergreen cemetery in this city. This is a part of the many plans for the improvement of Evergreen the duties of the trustees being for the handling of the perpetual endowment fund and the proper disposition thereof. No definite arrangement has yet been decided upon for the disposition of this fund by the city council although the cemetery committee will offer a recommendation on the subject in the near future but whatever arrangement is made it will doubtless be only temporary. The cemetery committee is naturally desirous of placing the fund to the very best advantage.

Another recommendation will be made to the council probably Monday night regarding the prices on the cemetery lots in the endowed portion. Many of the councilmen regarded the range of prices submitted by the committee at the last meeting as being too low and the list will be reconstructed. The first recommendation placed the prices within a range of from $40 to $80. The highest priced lots will be located south of Woodbine avenue in Forest addition, the lots fronting on the streets being higher than inside lots. The lots are 216 square feet each. One block, No. 51, will probably be reserved from sale as the Printers home desires to acquire it.

City Clerk MacMillan has secured copies of the blank contracts for endowments used by Riverside cemetery in Denver and will have similar contracts printed for use here. There have been numerous inquiries regarding the endowment feature recently and many people are awaiting the final settlement of the matter by the council to secure endowments.

TIM MURPHY.

So great was the demand for dates since Tim Murphy announced this season's tour in "Old Innocence" that the entire season has been filled with the time offered. It is four years since Mr. Murphy was seen in this delightful little comedy, but those who were fortunate enough to see it have not forgotten what a finished piece of character acting Mr. Murphy treated them to in the presentation of the lovable old philanthropist "Jason Green." Mr. Murphy brings with him in the forthcoming engagement the strongest acting company that has ever been seen in his support, headed by that charming actress Miss Dorothy Sherrod.

Mr. Murphy's appearance in this city will be at the Opera House on next Thursday evening.

W. S. Wayne, auditor of the Colorado Midland with offices in Denver, was the guest of the local office of the company yesterday.

Buttonhole Interviews

Excuse me but this is surely a curious old world" said the hobo balling up a ragged newspaper he had been perusing and throwing it on the grass in Antlers park. Then he settled back in the bench, his knees scrunched up and began watching a love-making pair strolling down the lane toward the depot.

Yes sir-ee, there's sure a funny old sphere" he continued in a meditative manner, resting from his reveries when the couple had vanished among the trees. "When I first jumped out on the road I thought it was the biggest ball of mud that the Creator could or would ever roll together but in a while I had come to the conclusion that it was pretty small to a good globe to [illegible].

How I start? Oh same old story. Booze mostly—booze primarily always. There was a girl—but that's my story.

I left my old New Hampshire home a long time ago—so long that I thought all memory of it was wiped out. I had reason to change my mind just a few days ago in this town. As I say it was booze first. Just a little at a time you know—just a few occasional drinks with the boys—just a few—and in between 'bats' same as all the fellows. You've seen lots of the same kind of stuffers probably see them every day now. Then there was the girl. She was a queen if ever there was one and she is yet for that matter barring a few extra years and some lines of care about her face. The girl and I loved. That's no kid we loved. None of your shallow half-baked school-girl attairs it was the real thing and it was mutual. Many and many a time she and I have sat on the benches around the parks at home—same as I'm doing right now and talked it all over. We were to be married—we were to have a real cozy little home and all that sort of thing—in short we lived in about the most blissful atmosphere you ever heard tell of.

Now this girl was away up socially. I wasn't. I had a good job but there was no [illegible] and I should have kept it pretty well if we were married but nothing like she was used to. So her folks liked. They couldn't do anything with her at all and they finally gave it up although they sent her half-way around the world before they did. I was winner straight up and down and on both sides. She stuck to me like glue all the way. I could hear her folks and everything else but the booze. I was against it, there. Course you'll say a man who was really loved and really loved in return ought to have had will power enough to fight such a little thing as that. Well it's that [illegible] You don't know. I was born with that thirst and I feel it, unwittingly at first until it became an all-over-powering flame.

Well in a few months my very smartest stunt was getting invited. Then the [illegible] commenced. Every time I took a drink it was reported to the girl's parents and by them to the girl. She closed her eyes to them all. Once in a while I would have flashes of my old form and would become ashamed and keep away from the flowing bowl for weeks at a time but it didn't last. My sober moments were usually devoted to apologizing for something I said when I was drunk.

Finally I played the string out and there wasn't any knot at the end for me to hold onto. I drank myself out of a job into [illegible] and into disgrace generally. I received a letter from the girl telling me a lot of things—the general gist being that while she loved me then and always would she couldn't marry a drunkard. I tumbled. The next freight took me and my thirst out of town and I've been going ever since—my thirst being always, Johnny on the spot also.

Now that's been a good—[illegible] ago I heard from the girl occasionally for a few years after that—not direct understand—but not and then I'd settle for a few months in some town and would be sure to run across some one that was from the old place and in that way get stray bits of news. They said she nearly grieved herself to death over me then quit grieving and finally married an old lobster with a lot of money. I felt rather glad when I learned that although before when I'd get sober for a few months I used to have pleasant dreams about going back with a blare of trumpets and pocketful of money and claiming her as my bride.

One day recently I drifted into Colorado Springs. I was all in to a certainty. I had shook K. C. with a large hang-over jag which had been on for some time and I was as thirsty as a camel after a 30-day waterless trip. I didn't want a nip however—there are whole rivers of that in Colorado Springs but I did want whiskey and I wanted it bad. I was hungry but that wasn't anything compared to my thirst. I could also have confessed to some third and aching bones but they didn't count either alongside of that thirst. I didn't dare hit any of the barkeeps over in Old Town for a drink because my appearance showed that I was very much professional jag-fiat and they're pretty leary about handing out free booze to that sort.

Now I don't [illegible] you'll put the police on do I'll just mention that I'm in the rag line—that is to say I don't usually care much how I get coin in. I made up my mind that I'd have to do business that night, although I had'nt intended to in such a small burg. Generally I play high. But I had to have the booze so I went out in the suburbs and sized up the residences. I finally picked out one that looked prosperous and I laid around until along about two o'clock and then I got busy.

My nerve wasn't very good that morning, on account of the hang over you know, but I managed to pry open a side window without much trouble and slid in. I got into the dining room first and tiptoed around there but couldn't find anything worth touching. There was plenty of silverware but this particular morning I didn't want silverware. I wanted coin to nurse that thirst because I couldn't have got rid of any stuff like silverware in town at that hour. A ticker or a ring of something like that would have been acceptable all right because I could have sluffed it on some rummy around the Colorado City saloons, but silverware—no. The appearance of the dining room showed me that the people that lived there had plenty of dough all right whether they left it around the house or not and, so, after working all the down stairs rooms I plugged up stairs.

The first room I got into there I stood up as the servant girl should. It was dark but the moon sneaked in through a slit in the curtains and the general appearance of the room didn't look as though there was anything doing. So I worked my way into the other rooms. In one [illegible] couple of kids sound asleep and I didn't linger there as [illegible] restless. I finally came to the one I was looking for. It was a big room in the front of the house and as soon as I peeked in the door I kind o' chuckled. The gas was burning and had been turned way down low. On one side of the bed there was a dinky little crib and a woman's arm was sticking out from under the covers of the bed and in across the cradle as though guarding it. I could see the top of the kid's head although the rest of it was covered by big white covers. On the other side of the bed was the man of the house. He was snoring to beat the band too so I hiked on in. I could not see the woman's face very well on account of the light and since I didn't take a rubber at either her or the man. If you look at a sleeping person they'll wake up quicker if you don't [illegible] them with a belch.

Old Paterfamilias and he were hanging around on chairs and they were in mine. I started across the floor of the room—and say it was a tickly furnished lay-out I want to tell you—but I had not taken a step when the woman turned in her sleep. I flopped on the floor and I stood. She stirred but did not wake up so after [illegible] breathing became regular again I stood up.

The darn the woman made enough by [illegible] to be full in the dim glow of the light and as she turned her face to me I recognized her. It was no one but my old sweetheart. Well it you could have knocked me over with a feather. It was no mistake either. She looked older and was bigger but it was her all right. I could see her mass of brown hair sweeping out on the pillow and as she slept she smiled—I hope it was for me. Maybe you think some memories didn't come over me about then—my eye. I looked to see the man's face but his head was covered up too much by the covers.

Do? What I do. Why I cooped the captain's trousers, abstracted a gilver simoleons hooked his watch and then went through the bureau drawers and picked up some little trifles in the way of rings etc. Then I took another look at Jessica [illegible] I was about to say it this—and blow. I left one ring—her wedding ring which was lying on the bureau.

That all. Why it I went to Colorado City got powerful drunk on the ten and in [illegible] things over it—rested quite a while. Said I'm. Now I'm [illegible] I'm a train to get me to Denver and I'll hock the watch and ring. Don't dare do it here. And Lord how you [illegible] I'd like to have the price of a drink or a meal obliged.

I'll go accomplish the fluid now and the hobo wandered away.

Say he talk'd through the [illegible] taking one last backward look. I left another thing too.

How's that? Oh it was my [illegible] engagement ring—and I'll [illegible] get.

MINES WILL ADOPT PLAN OF ARBITRATION

This Much Practically Settled by Selection of Delegates to the Convention—Difference Arises on Various Features Discussed.

By Associated Press.

Wilkesbarre Pa. Oct. 17.—In accordance with the call issued yesterday by order of the executive boards of the anthracite districts, all locals of the miners union throughout the coal fields began electing delegates today to the convention which will be held here next Monday to consider the acceptance or rejection of the arbitration plans submitted by President Roosevelt. Most of the local unions hold their meetings tonight. They all will have been held by tomorrow night.

It is practically certain that a majority of the delegates will come to the convention instructed to vote in favor of accepting the arbitration scheme. The prominent officials of the union say that there is no fear the opposition will be strong enough to defeat the efforts of those who favor ending the strike by arbitrating their differences with the operators. President Mitchell does not care to anticipate the action of the convention but from his manner it is taken that he has not the slightest doubt as to the result. He will go into the convention and make a strong speech for the acceptance of the arbitration scheme.

The indications are that the convention will last two days and that there will be much debate on various features of the arbitration plan.

The principal question to be disposed of before the plan is accepted by the miners will be the [illegible] ing care of all the men. The [illegible] ons of the mines are such that all workmen cannot be given work immediately and some will have to wait for weeks before the companies can take care of them. The operators will not dismiss the non-union men in order to give employment to a returning striker. It is understood the union will take care of all such men who fail to find immediate employment. This will be done by drawing funds from the relief fund which is said to be still growing.

The coal companies will do all in their power to meet the public demand for coal. Preparations for resuming as soon as the miners call the strike off are going on apace. It is estimated that 25 per cent of the collieries will be in operation on the first day after the suspension is over. The railroads are also making every effort to have enough cars on hand to carry the freshly mined coal to market and are sending thousands of cars into the regions and placing them on sidings at the collieries.

The state troops are having an easy time of it and are expecting the withdrawal of a portion of the division any day. General Gobin said today that petty acts of violence, such as the throwing of stones at men going to work are still being reported to him.

ATTEMPT AT BLACKMAIL

PROVES A FAILURE

By Associated Press.

Washington Oct. 17.—Several months ago a paper in Pennsylvania contained what purported to be a letter written by William J. Longenberger of Company A, Fifteenth infantry, to his mother in Danville Pa. In it he was made to say that the dead bodies of the Filipinos lay around on all sides unburied in various stages of decomposition and that when a Filipino dropped our boys all shot him seven or eight times, so that he was covered with blood from head to foot. This story obtained general circulation and was the subject of much criticism against the army. The matter was made the subject of an investigation by General Chaffee, then in command in the Philippines with the result that the story was shown to be without foundation. Private Longenberger, the reputed author of the letter, wrote to the commanding officer of his regiment that the story gives a mistaken impression. "I heard the story from another enlisted man," he stated, "and have never witnessed the death of a native in the Philippines and I now believe that the story told me was only idle boasting."

First Lieutenant L. M. Reeve, commanding Company A of the Fifteenth infantry, reports that the man who wrote the letter mentioned is a member of his company and his record shows that he has never been in action nor near the scene of the [illegible], he has never seen a Filipino [illegible], not even from sickness. The whole affair is the work of his imagination and there is not a word of truth in it."

[illegible] FOR EVERGREEN

Washington Oct. 17.—The secretary of the treasury has selected a site for the government building in Colorado Springs, Colo., at the corner of Pikes Peak and Nevada avenues. This site is valued at $75,000 but the late W. S. Stratton the owner before his death offered to contribute half of the value to the government, so that the accepted price is $35,000.

[illegible] FOR EVERGREEN

Troop H of Fourteenth Regulars Will Arrive This Afternoon From Fort Logan on a Ten Days' March and Camping Trip—Officers Are Coming Overland—Captain Adams in Command.

Troop H of the Fourth [illegible] United States cavalry will arrive here some time today on a practice march and a 10 days camping outing. They will probably camp at Broadmoor although no site has yet been secured.

The troop comes from Fort Logan, near Denver where it is stationed. Captain Adams will be in command. The troop started on the march last Thursday and is making the march by easy stages, although the soldiers are living enroute as they would in the field. They are of course mounted and have a string of mules and wagons with their equipments following them up. There are 65 men and about 85 animals in the column, including the mounts of the men, several extra horses and the army wagon mules.

The Fourteenth cavalry is one of the new regiments organized under the new army bill which increased the army. It was raised in the east and troop H was sent along with other troops to do garrison duty at Fort Logan. The idea of the march is to give the men a taste of actual field service and at the same time what will be rather a pleasant outing. The 10 days which will be spent here will be devoted to ordinary field duty and will undoubtedly be of great benefit to the soldiers.

This will be the first time since 1896 that any United States soldiers have been located in this vicinity and much interest is manifested in their coming. The troopers will be given a royal welcome. It will be a good opportunity for the cadet corps of the High school and the local guardsmen to see what real soldiering means, especially in the mounted branch.

[illegible] LICENSES TO BE [illegible]

[illegible] Saloon Renewals.

Druggists' liquor licenses expire on October 20 and applications for renewals are coming into the office of the city clerk. The licenses are payable every six months and already a number of applications have been granted by the council. Practically all will be in the hands of the clerk before the council meeting Monday night.

The liquor licenses required of the druggists furnish a considerable source of revenue to the city's coffers. The licenses costs each druggist $500 each half year or $1,000 a year, and the check for the amount must accompany the application when it is submitted to the council. Last year the city derived $12,500 from the druggists' licenses and this year the amount will be increased to some extent as there is at least one new drug store added to the list.

As compared to liquor licenses in many other cities of the state $1,000 a year is high. Many restrictions surround the Colorado Springs druggist license while in many cities open saloons are not required to put up that sum. High license is, however, the best regulation and is so conceded even by those who have to pay it.

HARVEST FESTIVAL SALE—There will be a harvest festival sale at the Salvation Army hall tonight. The Salvationists have gathered together quite a variety of saleable articles of every description, which they will sell to the highest bidder for the benefit of their work. They expect to have a big time. Brigadier Pebbles and Adjutant French of Denver will lead the meetings tonight and all day tomorrow. They have made arrangements to have good music. A ticket costing 10 cents, which can be procured at the door will admit one and will also purchase 10 cents worth of any goods on sale. Everybody come.

...MER PROPRIETOR ... TEMPORARY ...

If the former Colorado Springs officer who saw and talked with James F. Dinwoodie on a train near Palmer Lake a short time ago had reported the matter to officers here or at Denver at once it is quite likely that several more serious crimes would have been averted.

Dinwoodie alias N. E. McDonald is now under arrest at Creede charged with being one of the men who held up the Antlers saloon in Alamosa a few nights ago, robbed the house and killed George Wright, a gambler. The Denver police also believe that he is the party who killed Charles Boyle in a saloon held up. It has also been suggested that he is responsible for the murder of the Goldfield night marshal shortly after his escape.

Dinwoodie, or McDonald, escaped from the penitentiary on September 17 last. He is serving a term there for robbing the mails. He escaped while working with a gang of fellow convicts near the United States smelting plant at Canon. A day or two before the former Springs officer met him in a train going to Denver and talked with him. The ex-officer knew nothing of the escape and supposed he had served his term. He left the train at Palmer Lake and Dinwoodie apparently continued on to Denver. The man knew Dinwoodie well and, it was later learned, that he was wanted. The story of the meeting on the train was published in the newspapers here as soon as the ex-officer had talked with him, but it was too late.

Charles ... a well known Alamosa young man, confessed to a part in the Antlers hold up and the killing of Wright and said that McDonald, or Dinwoodie, and which is in fact his right name, had done the shooting. The ... which he participated in ended after a long chase which continued for seven miles, even after the officers had sighted their quarry and fired a fusillade of shots at him.

Dinwoodie was a partner of Harley McCoy, also an ex-convict who was killed by a week near Chama N. M. while on his way to Telluride to back Dinwoodie who is a prize fighter for $1,000. Monies bet were this money from Mrs. Anna B. Moore of Denver as it is said, for the purpose of backing Dinwoodie. The party disappeared with McCoy's death and Mrs. Moore sued the railroad company to recover it. McDonald eventually turned up in Denver and got Mrs. Moore who was a friend of his to indorse a draft for $400 which he claimed he received for being victorious in a prize fight. The draft proved worthless. A letter which McDonald wrote to a friend in Rawlins, Wyo., was returned to Mrs. Moore's address where the man had been living and Mrs. Moore opened it thinking it might give her a clew to McDonald's whereabouts. It was filled with abuse of her and used terms prohibited by the authorities. McDonald was eventually caught in East St. Louis under the name of James F. Dinwoodie and was sent to the penitentiary.

...POSED ... ORDINANCE ... STATIONARY ENGINEERS

Alderman Capell has had prepared and will introduce Monday night before the city council an ordinance providing for licensed stationary engineers in the buildings of the city. This ordinance has been under contemplation for some time and will undoubtedly become a law.

It is said that there are a number of the buildings in the city using large boilers for heating and power purposes which are in charge of men not qualified to hold such positions who are not stationary engineers except in name only and who do not hold proper credentials for such positions. There is some little danger attached to having boilers in charge of inexperienced men and the ordinance is designed to remedy this.

Under its terms the stationary engineers must hold a license and must have passed a state examination qualifying them to hold such a license. They must be engineers in every case that the term as relates to stationary engineers implies. It is understood that the new ordinance has the indorsement of the engineers of the city and will be supported by them. While there has never been any serious boiler accident here there have been elsewhere and in all large cities such ordinances are in effect and the idea is to be on the safe side. At the last meeting of the council Mr. Capell introduced a communication relating to the matter and it was referred to the ordinance committee. The ordinance as prepared has been approved by the city attorney.

Just what buildings will be affected by the new measure is not known but it is said that there are quite a number.

The City Council to Inspect the Seven Lakes Surveys

Today a number of members of the city council will make a trip to the Seven Lakes district in order to inspect the work which has recently been done there by City Engineer Case and his corps of men in making surveys for the proposed reservoirs. The trip is to be of an educational nature more than anything else. From now on the council will probably have the Seven Lakes district and the reservoir project before it a great deal and the members desire to get an idea by actual observation of what has been accomplished by the engineer and his surveys and the possibilities of the district. Mr. Case completed the survey work some time ago but has not yet submitted a formal report to the council.

The party which will make the trip today will be composed of Aldermen St. John McIntyre, Clark, Capell and Stark, Engineer Case and his assistant Mr. Waltman and Health Commissioner Harford. The party will assemble at the corner of Tejon street and Platte avenue and Tejon street at 1:45 and will make their start. They will go to the intake by carriage and then walk to Lake Moraine. Carriages will be waiting for them there and they will proceed to the Seven Lakes where a thorough inspection will be made of the engineer's plans and surveys. Mr. Case going along to fully explain the situation. The trip will occupy the entire day and in parts will return by carriages.

It is not unlikely that the matter will be taken up by the council in meeting Monday night and that the engineer will report at that time. The work accomplished by the survey has been explained heretofore in these columns. The personal inspection will put the aldermen in a position to handle the matter much more intelligently than they otherwise could.

ANOTHER LAWSUIT AS RESULT OF BREAKING OF STREET CAR AXLE

Plaintiff was a Passenger on a Car That Met With an Accident in Manitou on September 7

Mrs. J. A. Martin yesterday filed suit in the district court against the Colorado Springs & Suburban Railway company for $10,000 personal damages. Her suit is similar to the one brought by a Colorado City woman only a short time ago.

Mrs. Martin alleges that on September 7 she boarded a car at Colorado City to go to Manitou and paid the conductor the sum of 5 cents for her ride. She claims that the servants and employes of the company neglected to supply her with a seat and she was compelled to stand up holding her little boy. She charges that the car had a defective axle and that the employes and servants of the company were aware of the fact but that as the car entered the limits of Manitou they permitted it to run at a speed in excess of that prescribed by ordinance 10 miles an hour. The axle broke she claims and the car was run into an embankment. At the time the plaintiff claims that she was standing up, holding to the leather loop with one hand and to her boy with the other.

She claims that as a result of the derailment of the car, she met with severe injuries. She charges that the employes of the company were negligent in the discharge of their duties and that the company was negligent in not remedying the defective axle. She wants $5,000 as actual damages. The complaint states, and $2,000 as punitive or exemplary damages.

...S DEMAND FOR KIOWA

COUNCIL WILL ORDER THEM LAID EAST OF PROSPECT ST

Grade Will Be Established at Once and Matter Will Be Taken Up on Monday Night

Preparations are being made by the city council to establish a grade for sidewalks on East Kiowa street east of Prospect. An ordinance will be introduced providing for the grade Monday night and the sidewalks will be laid as soon as possible. Prospect street is the second street east of the Santa Fe railroad and the walks are badly needed.

Within the past few weeks there has been a decided movement toward getting sidewalks throughout the city. The council has ordered a large number put in and if the movement continues at the present rate there will be very few streets in the city not provided with pavements and a great improvement will have been made. A petition has recently been circulated to secure walks on North Tejon and it is understood that the movement is meeting with considerable favor.

...Amicable Settlement ... Been ...ade ... the Santa Fe Road

Property owners interested in the building of the Institute street car line held a meeting yesterday morning with representatives of the Santa Fe railroad and of the Colorado Springs & Interurban Railway company and as a result of the meeting an amicable settlement of the difficulties heretofore attendant upon the project was reached. Next Wednesday the street car company will vote to commence the work at once. It has stood prepared to do this for some time and the property owners were more than anxious to have the work started but a misunderstanding with the Santa Fe blocked proceedings for a time. This has been entirely adjusted however and the railroad company will do what it can to further the work.

Those present at the meeting yesterday were Alderman Capell, chairman of the street committee of the city council; Irving Bonbright, Sutton, R. P. Davis, John I. Franklin, F. J. Fisher, E. W. Kent, F. R. Hastings, T. P. Day, E. S. Gandy, Horace Lunt, William Lloyd and Superintendent McAfee of the street car company. Judge Lunt agreed to take the matter up with the officials of the railroad company and a favorable answer is expected immediately. At the last meeting of the city council Alderman Capell brought up the matter and a motion by him instructing the city attorney to report a method of procedure for securing a settlement with the Santa Fe company was passed. It is not likely however that such action will be necessary. The street car line has been long delayed and the property owners will be glad to see work started. The street car company is prepared to do this at once.

...s ... Charged ... ...Saving Received Stolen Goods

Louis Stein a junk dealer was yesterday placed under arrest by Deputy Sheriff Lanahan on a charge of receiving stolen property. It is charged that he had purchased some copper wire which had been stolen by Louis Talbert, the 16-year-old stepson of E. M. Simmons of 219 East Yampa street. Stein gave a bond in the sum of $500 for his appearance later before Justice Ruby.

Young Talbert was fined $5 and costs by Justice Ruby yesterday and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. Whether he will serve out that time depends largely upon his mother. She was told by the court that she could secure the youngster's liberty by paying the fine and costs but she said she wanted to think the matter over for a while. It seems that the youngster has before got into trouble which has cost his parents money and the mother was not sure but what a little time in jail might be a wholesome lesson for him.

It is claimed that the boy stole copper wire to the amount of 47 pounds from the Colorado Telephone company and disposed of it to Stein. It is claimed that the wire was worth about $7. The boy's stepfather, E. M. Simmons is a well known real estate man and is at present in California. It is said that the wire was stolen some months ago and that young Talbert was in with a crowd of youngsters in the matter. The other boys were arrested at the time but Talbert could not be found.

...e ... Property ... ...s Professor Marden ...

Unless unexpected opposition arises the ordinance vacating a portion of Columbia street to Prof. George Marden will come up on its final passage before the city council Monday night. This ordinance is the one which aroused considerable opposition from other property owners on the streets but whether they will carry their opposition any further remains to be seen. J. Arthur Council who led the opposition stated last evening that he did not know whether anything further would be done or not. Recourse to the courts would naturally be all that would be left the opponents if they desired to continue the opposition.

The history of the ordinance has been recited at length heretofore. Years ago Mr. Marden vacated the street to the city, but conditions have arisen since then which makes the vacation more or less of a detriment to his own interests. He has asked for the return of a very small portion of the street, some 17 inches which will offset the detriment and the council has agreed to give it to him. At a recent council meeting, Mr. Connell and other property owners appeared as did Mr. Marden to present their sides of the case. Mr. Connell stated that the street was too narrow as it is and therefore protested against any further vacation. Mr. Marden replied and showed that the vacation would be no great hardship stating that if it was he did not desire the vacation. Whether the other owners coincide with the explanation remains to be seen. The ordinance has now gone the usual route of publication and is down to its final passage.

LIPTON'S THIRD YOUNG CORBETT'S DECISION
CUP CHALLENGE BEATEN

Shamrock III Will Try Next August Under Same Conditions.

Bernstein's Seconds Threw Up the Sponge in the Seventh Round.

By Associated Press

New York, Oct 17—Sir Thomas Lipton's third challenge for the American cup sent by the Royal Ulster Yacht club was made public at the New York Yacht club tonight after being read and accepted by a committee appointed for the purpose The challenge is almost identical with that sent by Sir Thomas in 1900 It is signed by Hugh C. Kelly, honorary secretary of the Royal Ulster Yacht club and says

'I am requested by Sir Thomas Lipton, Bart, K C V O, to forward you this challenge for the America's cup subject to the same conditions as governed the last contest and which proved to be so satisfactory, namely the best three out of five races over the same course with like start and other details

'The first race to be sailed on Thursday, 20th, August 1903

'The second race to be sailed on Saturday, 22nd August 1903

The third race to be sailed on Tuesday 25th, August 1903

Further races (if any) to be sailed on each following Thursday Saturday and Tuesday until finished

I therefore on behalf of the Royal Ulster Yacht club and in the name of Sir Thomas Lipton a member of the club challenge to sail a series of matches with the yacht Shamrock III against any one yacht or vessel constructed by the United States of America for the American cup

Following are the particulars of the challenging vessel, viz. (owner) Sir Thomas J Lipton Bart, K C V O

'Name of yacht Shamrock III

Length on load water line 90 feet

Rig cutter

The custom house measurement will follow as soon as the vessel can be measured for registration

This letter was received from Sir Thomas Lipton.

'Osidge Southgate, Middlesex, 4th October 1902

Dear Mr Cormack—You will receive by the same mail a communication from the secretary of the Royal Ulster Yacht club conveying a challenge on my behalf for a series of races for the American cup for the year

In view of the continuously satisfactory and complete arrangements made by your club two contests in which I have been privileged to engage I ask as you will see from the terms of the challenge no change whatever in the conditions which governed the last contest entered into by me

"In thus desiring an opportunity of making a third attempt to obtain possession of the America cup I hope I may not be deemed importunate or unduly covetous of the precious trophy so long and so securely held in trust by the New York Yacht club

"Yours faithfully,

'Thomas J. Lipton.

"To C. A Cormack Esq. Secretary New York Yacht Club, New York, U. S. A."

There was also given out a copy of correspondence that passed during the summer between Thomas Lipton and Commodore Ledyard Sir Thomas wrote to inquire whether any contemplated changes in the measurement rules of the New York club would apply to vessels in the cup contest. To this Commodore Ledyard replied that although changes in the rules were contemplated they could in no degree be held applicable to the contests for the cup

By Associated Press

San Juan P R Oct 16—The election registrations have been a complete farce The Federals were shut out in a majority of the precincts of the island due to an order of the executive council placing a majority of Republicans on each board At Vieques eight mounted policemen guarded the booth and no Federals were admitted and none registered In many towns there have been no Federal registrations and in consequence in several towns in addition to Caves the Federals formally retired from the elections In order to remedy this the supervisor of elections allowed an extra registration day yesterday but with the same results Although instructions were wired to all the precincts to protect the rights of the Federals they were uniformly disregarded Whenever Federals attempted to register there was more or less disorder Shooting affrays occurred at Aguidalla Vieques and Mayaguez Some persons were wounded but there were no fatalities Wholesale arrests of Federals were made and thousands of protests and charges have been filed

KANSAS FARMERS URGED TO RAISE SUGAR BEETS

By Associated Press.

Topeka Kan, Oct 16—For the purpose of inducing Kansas farmers to raise sugar beets, the Santa Fe railway has invited representative farmers from a number of different localities in the state to take a free trip to Rocky Ford Colo, and see for themselves just what the farmers are doing in the sugar beet line

The first of these excursions consisting of several prominent farmers from the neighborhood of Topeka left for the west today Representative farmers from Wichita, Newton, Hutchinson and other localities will also avail themselves of the company's offer and visit the best farms of Colorado

According to a prominent Santa Fe official, the Arkansas Valley Sugar Beet company has decided to build several sugar mills in Kansas The mills will be erected as soon as the farmers are ready to supply the beets. It is probable that the first factories will be located at Wichita and Topeka.

SHOOTING AT GYPSUM—A report to the Times from Gypsum, Colo tells of a shooting there this morning as follows

This morning at 8:30 o'clock Gus Skiff a rancheman shot and perhaps fatally wounded William Dining a saloon keeper at this place.

Dining who also owns a ranch near this place and Skiff had frequently quarreled over a fence but he [illegible] they had not been any serious encounters between the two men.

Early this morning some of Dining's cattle broke into Skiff's field and Dining proceeded to drive them out using a pitchfork on the cattle. Dining saw Skiff chasing his cattle and immediately went over from his saloon and engaged in an altercation with Skiff during which the latter fired on him with a Winchester rifle which he had with him at the time. The bullet entered Dining's body and he fell to the ground. A large crowd gathered in the field and a number of gentlemen were ready to take Skiff in charge but they were quickly shrouded. Dr Hotopp was summoned from Glenwood Springs and the wounded man was removed to the city where an examination will be held.

Skiff was [illegible] under arrest and will be taken to the Eagle county jail at Redcliff this afternoon.

Skiff and Dining have lived in this county for several years and have many friends here.

William Dining died at 11:30, while Dr Hotopp was preparing to make an examination of the wound. It was found that the bullet penetrated the brain. People who were nearby at the time of the shooting state that Dining was armed with a revolver and that several shots were fired before Dining fell. It is further stated that the first shot was a revolver shot which makes it appear that Skiff shot Dining in self-defense. Dining was a married man. Skiff is a young fellow working on his father's ranch.

BURGLAR [illegible] PUEBLO GIRL

Fifteen-Year-Old Mary Pajko Sent to Industrial School for Six Years.

Pueblo Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.
With Colorado Securities Company.

Pueblo Oct 17—A 15-year old burglar named Mary Pajko who has committed at least three of her depredations in this city was sentenced by Judge Voorhees this morning to six years in the Girls Industrial school. A boy named Johnny Maddie 9 years of age and assisted the girl in burglarizing the Globe clothing store but he claims that she forced him to go into the store as well others and bring out goods to her. All the proofs tended to show the boys story to be true in spite of the girls denial. At the trial she was dressed in her best and was cool and self possessed throughout. She showed no distress except when she was bidding her mother goodby. When the two children were arrested the officers found fully a wagonload of goods they had stolen and secreted from various stores. The police say this girl is the shrewdest criminal they have encountered for many years.

CORONER'S VERDICT—The coroners jury in the case of Harry Goldstein who last Saturday was killed by William Lawrence now in the El Paso county jail reconvened this morning after an adjournment of several days, and brought in a verdict to the effect that the killing was done with felonious intent.

C F & I PROPERTY—A rumor that the C F & I company has bought the site of the old Philadelphia smelter and its 100 acres of ground which lies close on the east of the big works is vouched for on good authority here though denied in Denver. It is also true that the steel works company has purchased all the lots of the Bessemer Land & Ditch company in what is known as Harlem and buildings by the dozen will have to be moved from there at once.

BONANZA MINE—Messrs John Bishop, A C Daniels and others of Pueblo think they have a big bonanza in mining property adjoining the Livingstone mine at Boulder, which has shown up ore values of $400 to the ton already. The property of the Pueblo people is to be actively worked at once.

BUCKLIN ANGLED FOR [illegible] TAX BILL

Addressed Audience of 300 People in Cripple Creek---Local Dog a Winner.

Cripple Creek Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Cripple Creek Oct 17—At Rubich hall tonight 300 people listened to an argument in favor of the Australian tax amendment by Senator Bucklin who secured its passage in the legislature. J J DeVault acted as chairman of the meeting. Senator Bucklin was applauded when he made his appearance and during his remarks stated that the measure was being grossly misrepresented throughout the state. The speaker declared it was impossible at the present time for the county assessor to [illegible] assess all of goods household improvements. He stated that the present system of taxation was a farce and a fraud. According to the speaker merchants and owners of buildings are not taxpayers for the reason that the consumers of centers such as mines farmers and working men in cities pay the taxes. The speaker stated that the man who gets drunk is only fined once but that the man who builds a house is fined every year. To remedy this evil the speaker thought it proper to [illegible] the constitution. He predicted that unless this was done that in [illegible] years time the results under the new revenue law will be as bad as under the former revenue law. Senator Bucklin believes in placing more power in the hands of the people. The speaker kept the closest attention of his audience.

DISTRICT COURT—Two criminal cases were disposed of in the district court today. The case of the People versus James Hartsock charged with stealing an air drill and fittings from the Mineral Assets company was nolle prossed, because of the failure of the state to prove the ownership of the property. In the case of the People versus Stella Anderson charged with having perjured herself in the case of Wilde versus Anderson a civil action Judge Cunningham dismissed the defendant because the district attorney did not have the witnesses for the state present.

HANLEY'S DOG A WINNER—Mr Hanley received a telegram from Friend Neb today that his greyhound J L M had taken second money in the Mississippi Valley Futurity in which 93 dogs contested. J L M was runner up. The dog was trained by Pascal Poe of Pueblo. At the coursing meet at Friend John Mascom of Denver had the dog in charge. Today Mr Hanley refused an offer of $500 for the greyhound, made by a Colorado Springs party.

MINING SUIT—An adverse suit was commenced in the district court today by the Stratton Cripple Creek M & M company against J Kelly J H Parks J A Bradford and Clarence Dilling. The plaintiff company sues for the possession of the ground in conflict between the Alice No 14 Mariposa Mariposa No 1 and Montezuma lodes and the Bonfar lode claim of the defendant. The property is on Bull hill.

PFEIFFER WITHDRAWS—Mr Pfeiffer Democratic nominee for county commissioner today withdrew his name from the Populist ticket. Mr Hazel J Whalin was recently named as the Populist nominee and hence Mr Pfeiffer's withdrawal.

LEROY NOMINATED—The Democratic county central committee today nominated Harry LeRoy for constable at Anaconda in place of A Decker who refused to make the race.

GOLDFIELD

ANTI-BUCKLIN AMENDMENT LEAGUE AT WESTCLIFFE

(Special Correspondence.)

Westcliffe, Oct 16—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the tax-payers of the county was held at the court house Wednesday night the object of which was to hear the Hon Lewis R Schwanbeck discuss the Bucklin amendment and it was well that the meeting was called and that such an able speaker presented the subject since there were many present who, guided by the position taken by the representative from this county would have undoubtedly voted for it while others, who had given the matter no thought, would have passed it at the polls.

Mr Schwanbeck, being fully prepared with data concerning the assessed valuation and classification of assessable property in this county, as well as thoroughly understanding the prime objects of the Bucklin measure, made a presentation of the present conditions and conditions that would follow, which was simply astounding, and which created a feeling adverse to the measure which resulted in the organization of an Anti-Bucklin Amendment league at the close of the meeting with a membership of 91. James P Callahan, a prominent attorney, was selected as president and A. Noxon as secretary and treasurer. An executive committee and vice presidents from every precinct will be selected later. The work will soon be perfected and the fight against the obnoxious and pernicious measure will begin in earnest. Custer county will without doubt vote a good majority against the bill and that majority can be accredited to Mr Schwanbeck, who is well known here, having in former days made numerous acquaintances, all of whom have confidence in his sincerity and integrity, and whose lucid presentation of the subject so glaringly presented the real object of the bill.

[illegible] MEDICAL ASSISTANCE [illegible] WOMEN.

All Correspondence Is Sacredly Confidential

This is a very important consideration in a woman's correspondence with Mrs Pinkham. It is a great satisfaction to feel that one woman can write to another telling her the most private and confidential details about her illness, and know that her letter will be seen by a woman only,—a woman full of sympathy for her sick sisters, and with a knowledge of woman's ills greater than that possessed by any other person.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence thus entrusted to her, and although she publishes thousands of testimonials from women who have been benefited by her advice and medicine, never in all her experience has she published such a letter without the full consent, and often by special request of the writer.

The reason Mrs Pinkham is so amply qualified to give advice in cases of female ills is for the reason that over one hundred thousand cases come before her each year,—some personally, others by mail, and this has been going on for twenty years, day after day, and day after day. Twenty years of constant success,—think of the knowledge thus gained. Surely, women are wise in seeking advice from a woman of such experience, especially when it is absolutely free.

As an illustration of the good coming from such advice we herewith publish two letters and portrait of Miss Hattie DeGroat, the reading of which should give every sick woman confidence in Mrs. Pinkham's ability to help them. This is only one of thousands of the same kind of letters which Mrs. Pinkham has on file.

"DEAR MRS PINKHAM.—I have read with interest your advice to others so much that I thought I would write to you, for I have been suffering for a long time. I have such bearing down pains and such shooting pains go through me. I have headache, backache, and feel tired. Menstruation is very painful, sometimes have to stop work and lie down. My stomach bloats terribly, and I am troubled with whites. Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain,
July 24th, 1900. MISS HATTIE DEGROAT, Succasunna, N. J."

"DEAR MRS PINKHAM.—I can hardly find words to thank you for your advice and wonderful Vegetable Compound. I was in a terrible state, every part of my body ached. I was very nervous, had hysterical spells. I think I would have become insane had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Your letter told me just what to do, and your medicine cured me, and I cannot express my thanks."
March 8th, 1901. MISS HATTIE DEGROAT, Succasunna, N. J."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends. Do not be persuaded that any other medicine is just as good. Any dealer who suggests something else has no interest in your case. He is seeking a larger profit. Follow the record of this medicine, and remember that the thousands of cures of women whose letters are constantly printed in this paper were not brought about by "something else," but by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SENATOR TELLER SPOKE AT VICTOR

Given Cordial Welcome but Roused Little Enthusiasm.....Lloyd Estate.

Victor Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Victor, Oct. 17—Senator H M Teller and party arrived in Victor over the Short Line this afternoon and were given a hearty welcome by the Victor Democrats in the party were Mrs H M Teller and daughter Alice. This afternoon, at Miners Union hall the campaigners were tendered a reception by the Democratic women of the city. Mrs. George Kyner rendered a number of vocal selections and light refreshments were served. Tonight at the opera house a rally was held at which Senator Teller was the principal speaker. Frank J Hanna of Cripple Creek Democratic candidate for state senator and Mrs Helen Grenfell, the Democratic nominee for state superintendent of public instruction also made addresses.

Senator Teller's speech was a disappointment and created very little enthusiasm although the opera house was well filled. Many of the audience were Populists and Socialists the senator tried to persuade these to vote for the Democratic ticket and against Judge Owens, whom he seemed to think was a black horse. It is not thought here that Senator Teller's visit has helped the Democratic cause.

Thomas Annear also addressed the meeting.

Since the fact became known that Mr and Mrs. R A. Lloyd left an estate valued at between $4,000 and $6,000, the eastern relatives of the couple have taken quite an interest in the matter. It will be remembered that Mrs Lloyd shot and killed her husband and then committed suicide. Mrs Lloyd survived her husband by six hours, and this made her daughter, Miss Ruble Wilcox of Cape Girardeau, Mo, the legal heir. Telegrams have been received in Victor from relatives of Mrs Lloyd in Missouri and from relatives of Mr. Lloyd at Van Buren, Ark asking that Mrs Lloyd's body be held until their arrival.

A civil service examination will be held tomorrow morning at the Washington school building for applicants for postal positions. A class of five will take the examination four gentlemen and one woman. The examinations are for the positions of clerk or carrier.

Dr. H. M. Cohen, one of the youngest of Victor's physicians, has just been appointed consulting physician for the Portland mine.

Albert Weir a young miner of the camp returned today from Iowa. He brought back with him a handsome bride.

TRINIDAD IS READY TO CLIMB INTO THE BAND WAGON

Special to the Gazette

Trinidad, Oct 17—The campaign in Trinidad was opened tonight by Hon. Franklin D Brooks and Mrs Anna Brandt and Hon Clyde Dawson.

Mr Brooks in an eloquent address of about forty minutes stirred the audience to a high state of enthusiasm. He was interrupted frequently by hearty rounds of applause. He drew a striking contrast of the commercial and industrial conditions which exist today as compared with those of the last Democratic administration and paid a glowing tribute to the fearless and patriotic manner in which President Roosevelt has met the intricate problems of the first year of his administration. Mr Brooks only pledge is to work unceasingly for upbuilding and conserving Colorado industries. He favors legislation to control and regulate trusts, settlement of labor troubles by arbitration an eight-hour day, and prohibition of child labor.

Mr Dawson spoke of state issues and scored the Democratic and Fusion parties for the deplorable condition to which they have brought the affairs of the state.

Mrs Brandt spoke only a few minutes but succeeded in making a very favorable impression.

The audience was enthusiastic and the remarks of the speakers were frequently interrupted by applause. Predictions are being made that this county will be safely Republican.

WHERE THEY GROW

CITY CLERK MacMILLAN HAS IT DOWN IN FIGURES.

Keeps a Record of Births For the City and Shows the October Sheet With Pride.

One man who takes a very keen interest in the growth of Colorado Springs' population is City Clerk MacMillan. Especially is he interested in the home products and he probably knows more about that matter than any one else in the city, barring the health commissioner. Among the divers and sundry duties which fall to the lot of the city clerk is the more or less arduous task of keeping track of births in the city, which are supposed to be reported to him in due form and by him filed away in the form of certificates in the archives of the city. It is small wonder then that the clerk takes some little pride in the constant additions to the population.

These births were reported for October to date:

Mr. and Mrs Swanson, 620 South Sierra Madre daughter.
Mr and Mrs. E. S. Miller, 232 North Walnut, son.
Mr and Mrs. Robert Bailey 409 Cooper avenue, son.
Mr and Mrs. F W McDaniel, daughter.
Mr. and Mrs Fred A Edwards, son.
Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McFarland, 813 Mesa road, son.
Mr. and Mrs H C Daniels, 317 East Cimarron street, son.
Mr and Mrs. H. A. Jones, No 6 North Eaton, son.
Mr. and Mrs John G. O'Boyle, 1307 Colorado avenue daughter.
Mr. and Mrs [illegible] C. Juestingle, daughter.
Mr and Mrs. John B. Wemyss 606 Agua avenue daughter.
Mr and Mrs. John Lacey, 105 West Cimarron, son.
Mr. and Mrs J. S. Tucker, 817 North Weber, daughter.
Mr and Mrs. Thomas McNichols, 527 East Platte, daughter.
Mr and Mrs. Logan C Miller, 827 East Monument, son.
Mr. and Mrs. James P Whitaker, daughter.

[illegible] GRADE FOR [illegible] CLAIM

Rocky Mountain Company Which Is Leasing on the Property Is Saving a Shipment From Recent Strike--Promising Strike Made on Sitting Bull Claim---Ore From Recent Whippoor-will Strike.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 17.—The Rocky Mountain company casing on the south end of the Delmonico claim is saving a shipment of high grade ore. The ore comes from the recent strike made on the Delmonico 80 feet south of the shaft and at a depth of 200 feet from surface. The shipment which will be the initial one of the Rocky Mountain company, will consist of one load of ore. In the consignment there will be some high grade ore with values of over $1,000 in gold to the ton. The balance will be screenings. The rich ore shoot has been opened for a distance of 50 feet and gives every indication of being permanent.

A promising strike has been made on the Sitting Bull claim of the Keystone company. Stone & company, the lessees, while trenching with a view of opening up the extension of one of the John A. Logan veins, discovered the ore body at surface. The ore shoot is quite large and carries values of about $80 in gold to the ton. The lessees are vigorously developing the find.

The Pro[illegible] Gold Mining company on the Trachyte on Bull hill will market all of 500 tons of ore this week. Of this [illegible] the greater portion will go to the Taylor & Brunton [illegible], while some of the low grade will be treated at the [illegible] mill. The ore bodies in the Trachyte are large and the general values [illegible] in reason & [illegible]. At the present time the screenings run from $60 to $80 in gold to the ton.

The Crown Gold Mining company, owning a group of claims on Big Bull mountain, is arranging to do considerable work in the near future. This week work was started in one of the shafts where it is stated that a vein of quartz has been opened, assaying as high as $27 to the ton. The owners are confident and will sink the present shaft to a depth of 100 feet and then drive to the vein.

McDonald & McKenzie, leasing on the Whip-poor-will near the Dante on Bull hill, are now hoisting ore from their recent strike. A new vein has been cut recently that shows free gold and sylvanite. The lessees have hoisted about 50 tons of ore that they expect will run about $50 in gold to the ton. A trial shipment sent out last week gave pay values.

McKinney, Baker & company, who recently secured a lease on the south end of the Burns of the Arctic company on Bull hill, have started a shaft from the surface and at a depth of 50 feet a dike of mineralized phonolite has been cut showing values of from $10 to $15 to the ton. The shaft is located near the recent big strike on the Shurtleff.

Mahoney and associates, who recently made a rich strike on the Damon, sent out another shipment this week carrying values of better than two ounces in gold to the ton. A carload sent out last week netted the lessees over $700 for the shipment. It is stated that the ore body is close to eight feet in width and that assays from stringers give values of 10 ounces in gold to the ton.

On the Pharmacist on Bull hill John Lyons and associates, who recently secured a lease on the 100 foot level of the old workings, sent out a shipment of 30 tons today, carrying two ounce values. At Portland and Gwendolyn also leasing on this ground market d their carloads of $40 ore the first of the week. Lessees Cook, Hummel operating on the Gold Bond property on Gold hill, to day marketed two carloads at $40 ore.

[illegible] SETTLEMENT OF [illegible] DRAINAGE PROBLEM

Mining Men Have Practically Agreed Upon a Plan and the Castello Idea of a Deep Bore Is Understood to Be the Favored One.

The drainage question in the Cripple Creek district seems likely to be definitely settled in the near future. At a meeting of the mine owners held at the offices of the Elkton company on Friday, September 26, a committee consisting of William Lennox, Frank G. Peck, Sherwood Allyn, Frank F. Castello and William Bainbridge was appointed to consider the best means for unwatering the mines of the district and report back to another meeting of the mine owners to be called whenever the committee was ready to report. Since that time the committee has held several meetings and every phase presented for the solution of the difficulties has been carefully considered. The two chief propositions were the Newell tunnel, which Mr. Frank S. Oakes of Buffalo, N. Y., offered to extend into the saturated area and unwater the district down to that level for a consideration of $[illegible] a month while the tunnel was used for drainage purposes, and the Bainbridge tunnel, which was suggested to run out into Beacon hill to open the El Paso mine at its 50 foot level and then to extend across toward the Elkton until it cut the water course of Bacon hill. The Newell tunnel proposition was [illegible] anything more than a proposition for temporary relief. Considerable opposition to this idea developed both in the committee and among mining men. Mr. Oakes therefore withdrew his offer hoping thereby to relieve the committee of embarrassment. Mr. Oakes is a heavy investor in Cripple Creek himself and merely desired to present a scheme which might afford some relief while a longer and deeper tunnel was being driven. He will now use his tunnel for the developing of the Prince Albert mine, of which he has gained control.

The final meeting of the committee was held at the office of Shove, Aldrich & company yesterday morning, and a definite plan was adopted. This plan will be reported to another meeting of the mine owners which will be held at the offices of the Elkton company Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

While the various members of the committee would not give out anything regarding the plan adopted it is thought that the plan will be entirely separate from any of those which have been outlined in the papers from time to time since the committee was appointed. Mr. Castello of the committee has it in looking forward to a prosperous time after the new survey is completed next summer.

[illegible] AMALGAMATION

Specie Payment Has Acquired the Champion in the Clear Creek District--Also Secures Donaldson Mill.

It is reported on the best authority that the management of the Specie Payment mine has acquired the old Champion mine which adjoins the Specie Payment on Bellevue mountain in the Clear Creek district. The Specie Payment has a production record of nearly $500,000 and the Champion property is equally rich. It is stated that the Specie Payment and the Champion combined can produce more than the other properties in the district combined. The property lies just inside of the boundary between Clear Creek and Gilpin counties but the ore taken out goes to Gilpin county, thus giving that county the credit for it. The Specie Payment property consists of 17 claims and is at the present time producing about $5,000 per month. The property is not being actively worked however. There is considerable development work in progress and the new combination necessitates considerable surface work.

Mr. Williams, the manager of the Specie Payment, practically closed the deal while in England recently but the final arrangements have only recently been completed. The two properties have been involved in litigation and the consolidation will clear all difficulties.

In addition to securing the Champion mine the Specie Payment company has also acquired the Donaldson mill, which it will rebuild. They are also rebuilding the tramway from the mine to the mouth of Fall river. An upraise will be driven on the Specie Payment from the fourth level to connect with the old shaft. A crosscut of 100 feet will also be made to connect the workings of the Specie Payment with those of the Champion. The Specie Payment is largely owned by eastern men, Mr. Curtis of Providence being one of the chief stockholders.

[illegible] DEEPENING OF PROPERTIES MAKES THE DAY PROSPEROUS

One of the features of the present activity of the Cripple Creek stocks is the number of strikes made upon properties that have been either worked or prospected in the past. Old prospectors are going over some of the old ground and as a result many new ore bodies are being opened up. An instance of this kind is the recent strike on the War Eagle. This is an old property and is surrounded on all sides by shafts and producing claims. Yet it is only within the past few weeks that ore has been opened up. A half interest in this property was on the market and openly advertised for months before Mr. Stratton bought it. Another similar case is that of the Nil Desperandum. Openings have been made both on this claim and on the Rhyocerus of the same company, which adjoined it in times past but it remained for John Barbee to open up the real ore shoot within the past month. This strike bids fair to be one of the chief features of the year. Work is being started again on the Magna Charta on Gold Hill, which has been idle or nearly so for some time past. The C. O. D. in Poverty gulch, which was once practically abandoned, is now in good ore and has promising prospects. The Damon was left idle for a long period but is now being opened up by a lessee who is shipping some good ore. This renewed activity on the older properties is one of the most encouraging features of the present activity and can be taken as evidence of the long life which is promised for the Cripple Creek district. With all this activity at the present time the mining fraternity is justified in looking forward to a prosperous time after the new survey is completed next summer.

COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, Oct. 17.—The mining stock market this morning showed some weakness, both in prices and in volume of business. In the mines list, several of the leading stocks fell away slightly, although in no case were the losses of any amount. Dante gained fractionally. Dexter-Jack Pot lost fractionally. El Paso, which all along has been the strongest stock in the list, fell away on light trading. Goula made a gain and Jack Pot lost fractionally. It went in this manner through the list, one stock losing and the next gaining. Among the preferred prospects there were several good deals but prices were generally stationary. Echo gained and Mary Cashen and Progress gained fractionally. These were the only gains in the list. Among the prospects, Marquette and Pray-Bell gained, the latter being an extensive trader.

EASTERN MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Report of Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co., to William A. Otis & Co.:

New York, Oct. 17.—Bold manipulation resulted in important advances in the stocks taken in hand today. Their strength was reflected in general list and closing prices showed a majority of stocks higher for the day. The bull tactics were materially assisted by the developments in the money situation. It was one of those days when all of the news was of a bullish character. Here and there, however, profit-taking was plainly apparent. The arbitrage houses sold about 30,000 shares on balance. In the known currency movement the banks have lost about $600,000, but are expected to make a more favorable showing in tomorrow's statement, than that of last Saturday. The statement will not reflect the full effect of the government bond purchases. If the bonds were paid for over the counter today, this money will figure for only one day. The foreign exchange market was steady.

Demand sterling, $4.83½@4.83¾.

J. S. Bache & Co.—There was a strong opening, prices were influenced by higher quotations for the Americans and good buying for London account. St. Paul and Missouri Pacific were the leaders and were followed by B. & O., Union Pacific and the balance of the list. There was a steady absorption of stocks from start to finish. The tendency was distinctly upward. There were a number of influences which acted as factors in a rising market, the most prominent of which was the government bond purchase. All the news from the coal region continued favorable, and gave assurance that the convention of miners called for Monday would approve of the plan of arbitration. Advances since Monday last have been large and in a great number of instances prices have recovered in a few days, what they have lost in three weeks.

CHICAGO GRAIN & PROVISIONS.

Report of Logan & Bryan to William A. Otis & Co.:

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Wheat—Liverpool ⅛ to ¾c higher, Paris ¼c lower to 1⅛c higher, Antwerp ⅝c higher. Primary receipts 1,260,000 against 926,000, shipments 520,000 against 614,000, clearances 701,000. Bradstreet makes the clearances for the week 5,240,000. This market was again very active. Liverpool only partially followed yesterday's advance here, and that made some selling early but the further strength in corn and the prediction of general rains throughout the west rallied it later. It is a somewhat nervous market, due to large scalping operations. Broomhall cables little better spot demand, and the tone of continental markets seems strong. Clearances continue large and there is a good general cash demand in all the markets. We see nothing to indicate any permanent weakening in the position. General speculative interest is increasing and this should mean higher prices. California advices are strong, indicating a shortage in Pacific coast crop with a large oriental and continental demand for wheat. We think wheat should be bought on the soft spots. Estimated cars, 95.

Corn—Liverpool ¼ to ½c higher. Primary receipts, 282,000 against 484,000, shipments 152,000 against 172,000. Clearances 4,300. Bradstreet 180,000. Market here was again extremely active. The volume was enormous and it was difficult to follow the buying and selling. Shorts covered freely and it is fair to suppose that a good deal of long corn was liquidated. The reaction from top price was, however, not very great and the market therefore shows nothing in the way of weakness. Rains are predicted, which, if they mature would be a bullish factor. The short interest is still very large. Estimated cars, 310.

Oats—What little strength there is to the market is in sympathy with firmness in corn. In other respects it is dull and featureless and shows no snap whatever. Estimated cars, 270.

Provisions—Market is moderately active and higher. The continued strength in corn imparts confidence to the speculative buying of provisions and induces covering of shorts which had been put out on the expectation of low prices for corn. We still think January and May provisions should be bought. The cash demand is fair. Shipments, meats, 1,405,000, against 1,856,000; lard, 1,700,000, against 862,000. Receipts, hogs, 34,000 against 31,000 last year.

Metal Market.

By Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 17.—The features of today's market was the sensational advance in tin at London, due it is said, to manipulation on the part of the bulls in that market for the purpose of squeezing the short interest. Whether or not this explanation be accurate, prices there advanced £3 for the day, spot closing at £119 and futures at £118 10s. Locally there was little business, but prices were higher in sympathy with the London developments, spot being quoted at $26.50@26.65. Copper also advanced in London, gaining 11s 3d, which brought the closing figures up to £53 for spot and £53 2s 6d for futures. As was the case with tin, copper here also advanced but without important business. Standard closed at $11; electrolytic at $11.70@11.85; lake at $11.75@11.85 and casting at $11.65@11.75. Lead was quiet and unchanged in both markets, New York closing at 4¼ and London at £19 2s 6d. The English iron markets were a trifle lower. Glasgow closed a shade lower at 57s 8d and Middlesboro a little higher at 68s 3d. Locally iron was quiet and unchanged.

Denver Live Stock.

Denver, Oct. 17.—Cattle—Cattle receipts at all the markets were light today, 1,800 at Omaha, 1,700 at Kansas City and 2,500 at Chicago, with a strong tone prevailing. The markets are in a much better condition than a week ago and the demand stronger. Receipts on this market today were light and by noon the yards were fairly well cleared, with prices ruling strong on the best grades. The feature of the market was the sale of a bunch of Middle Park cattle that arrived by trail that sold for $5.00 for the best and $4.35 for the bulk of the fat steers. This price is the record for range steers this season and the quality the best. Some good fat cows on the market sold at $3.50, which is about the top for that class of offerings. The bulk of the feeders and stockers that sold were of ordinary quality and brought from $3.35 to $3.50. The top paid for feeders was $3.75. The cattle market closed today in a healthy condition with very little stock remaining unsold. The demand is strong on nearly everything and prices are satisfactory considering the slump the first of the week.

Hogs—Packers are now pretty well supplied with hogs and the demand is not as strong as it was earlier in the week, as receipts have been very good for the past few days. The river markets were reported to be higher and $7.15 was the top at Omaha, but the best price paid on this market was $7.05 and prices ranged from these figures to $6.85. The quality of the hogs on the market was only fair, nothing really choice being on sale.

Sheep—Only part of the feeder sheep that have been on the market during the past few days found sale. Five loads of good feeder lambs that averaged 59 pounds sold at $3.75, freight paid, which was considered a good price. The market is ruling about steady, with good demand for choice killers.

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW

By Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 17.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

With the settlement of the great coal strike of 1902, the most remarkable in some respects of modern record, practically the only unfavorable feature in general trade and industry disappears. Coincident with this also have been the ending of several minor troubles of a similar nature. While relief to the public mind is, perhaps, the most immediate result, it is natural to expect that the present abnormal prices and conditions in fuel supply will gradually disappear. Some scars, of course, will be left and the effect of the costly trouble will no doubt be reflected in some permanent loss of trade in the mining regions and in rather higher prices for fuel the coming winter than were paid a year ago. All other trade developments this week are largely favorable. Retail trade has generally improved, stimulated at the west, northwest and south by cooler weather, fall festivals and carnivals. Jobbing demand is also beneficial particularly at the west. Shoe, drygoods, hat and cap, clothing and hardware and lumber dealers have all done well.

Seasonable strength is noted in butter and cheese, and the metals are also higher. In the general strength of farm products the weakness in cotton is notable.

Improvement in the iron trade as a result of the probable ending of the coal strike is as yet a matter of sentiment but with the free movement of coal, eastern iron furnaces now banked are expected to resume operation, though coke shortage may close valley furnaces.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending October 16, aggregate 5,340,688 bushels against 5,645,779 last week, 5,5.6,973 in this week last year and 3,796,643 in 1900.

Wheat exports since July 1 aggregate 78,371,180 bushels against 95,100,917 last season and 56,302,166 in 1900.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending Thursday, October 16, number 208 as against 170 last week and 198 in this week last year.

In Canada failures for the week number 15 against 20 last week and 29 in this week a year ago.

R. G. DUN & CO.'S REVIEW

By Associated Press.

New York, Oct. 17.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

The settlement of the coal strike removes the only serious handicap to industrial progress. Five months of restricted fuel production had begun to check the wheels at many manufacturing centers where there was a perceptible diminution in consumptive demands as the purchasing power of the wage earners steadily decreased. Savings have been exhausted, and much money has gone out of the country because of this strike but the nation's remarkably strong position assures a speedy restoration of prosperous conditions. Transportation is now the worst feature, and threatens to continue disturbing. While the grain crops are being moved, the supply of rolling stock and motive power will prove insufficient, although every effort is made at the shops, liberal premiums being offered for early delivery. That the railroads are well occupied is evidenced by earnings for the first week of October, 3.5 per cent. larger than last year and 10.9 per cent. above 1900.

Inadequate supplies of fuel caused further banking of furnaces, but the effect of a decreased output of domestic pig iron has been partially neutralized by larger arrivals from abroad.

Footwear shops are actively engaged, many producers having added to their long list of orders, and while practically all the New England manufacturers are assured full time up to the end of the year, they are also taking orders fo deliveries in March. Prices are easily maintained. Leather is slightly weaker, owing to the sharp fall in hides.

Failures for the week numbered 206 in the United States against 229 last year and 24 in Canada compared with 31 last year.

CROP REPORT OF THE AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT

By Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 17.—The crop report of the department of agricultural shows that owing to the remarkably cool and wet summer experienced throughout a considerable part of Europe, the harvest of 1902 is one of the latest on record. The promise of an abundant yield, therefore, has been only partly fulfilled in Europe, allowing for grain gathered in a damaged condition and for that actually spoiled. In the case of bread grains there will be a demand among millers in the countries so suffering, for good dry grain to mix with the home product.

The semi-official Russian estimate makes the wheat, rye, barley and oats crop of that country not only larger than in 1901, but exceeding the average for the five years 1896-1900. The estimate puts the winter wheat crop at 186,682,287 bushels, of 60 pounds each, spring wheat 300,048,358 bushels of 60 pounds; rye, 654,452,750 bushels of 56 pounds each; barley, 382,181,825 bushels of 45 pounds each; oats, 846,301,876 bushels of 32 pounds each.

Throughout about four-fifths of the German empire harvesting was delayed by frequent rains and there was still much grain in the fields in the middle of September. The Austrian official figures for September 15 say that wheat and barley are good, average crops, while rye is only medium to good medium. The quality of the grain, so far as the harvest was secured under anything like favorable conditions, is mostly satisfactory.

From Hungary the official report for September 15, received at the department here shows that maize has suffered from drought in some districts, the plants producing no ears and in others the grain ripened before the ears attained a normal development.

The Roumanian wheat crop is officially estimated as the best in many years. For 1902 the production is estimated at 76,820,288 bushels, rye at 6,958,466 bushels, barley 24,671,040 bushels, and oats 21,868,305 bushels.

The Bulgarian cereal crops are fairly satisfactory. The wheat is practically good in yield though a little deficient in quality.

The French ministry of agriculture has issued a preliminary report giving the wheat production of France as 332,000,000 bushels, an increase of over 13 per cent. over 1901.

The crops in Belgium are stated to be comparatively satisfactory.

In Great Britain there are under wheat cultivation 25,598 acres greater than in 1901. The recent weather through Great Britain has greatly helped its farmers in completing their belated harvest.

Harvesting is progressing favorably in Denmark. Rye and wheat are of normal yield and good quality.

The wheat crop of Italy, according to present indications, will be approximately 180,000,000 bushels.

The recent rains in Argentine entirely saved the crops and it is expected that the yields will exceed last year by over 40 per cent.

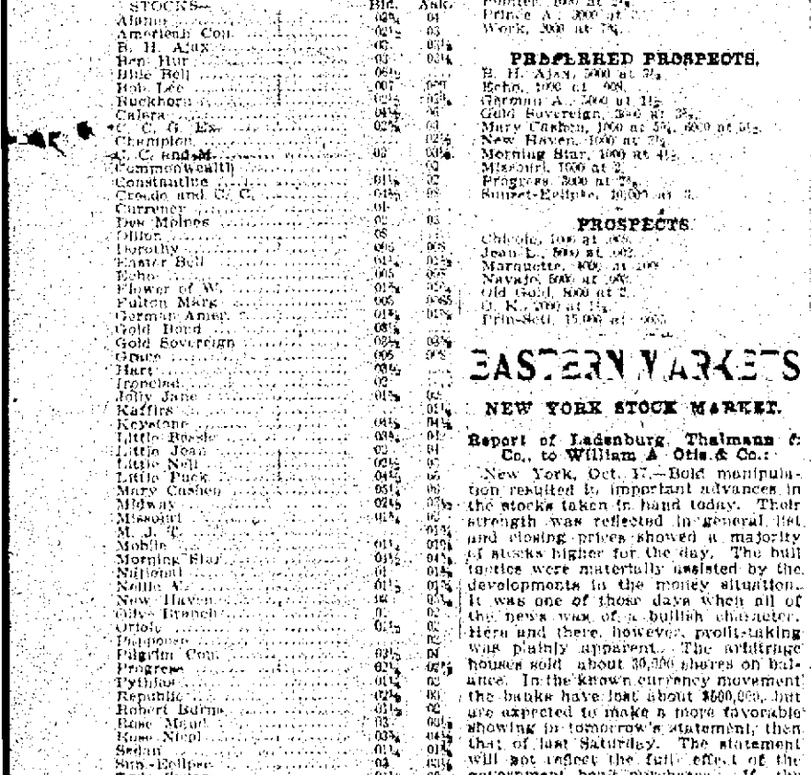
Wheat areas in Australia have been helped by heavy rains.

Generally favorable reports of coming crops have been received from all provinces of India.

The rice crop of Japan, hurt by the wet summer, probably will be below the average.

The official estimate of Spain is that the country will have the largest wheat crop for many years and will have a considerable surplus for exportation.

The Nile flood this year is the lowest in the last 28 years and although the scarcity of water will partly be compensated for by the new works executed by the British government, the crops in upper Egypt are likely to suffer. Whatever water is available in Egypt will be principally applied to the rice crop, leaving beans, lupines, cotton, etc., to ripen on the chief effect of the scarcity.



RISING BREAST

And many other painful and serious ailments from which most mothers suffer, can be avoided by the use of "Mother's Friend." This great remedy is a God-send to women, carrying them through their most critical ordeal with safety and no pain. No woman who uses "Mother's Friend" need fear the suffering and danger incident to birth; for it robs the ordeal of its horror and insures safety to life of mother and child, and leaves her in a condition more favorable to speedy recovery. The child is also healthy, strong and good natured. Our book "Motherhood," is worth its weight in gold to every woman, and will be sent free in plain envelope by addressing application to Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

COLORADO CITY, OCTOBER 17.

BRIEF CITY ITEMS

Dr. O. T. Robinson, dentist Templeton block, Colorado City.

HIGH FIVE SOCIAL—The high five social given by the American Order of Protection Wednesday evening last was immensely enjoyed by a large number of enthusiastic card players. While high five and other games were in progress in the main hall, dancing was indulged in by the younger folk in the banquet room, after which dainty refreshments were served to all. The prizes were distributed as follows: Ladies' first prize, Miss Catherine Lynum of Omaha, Neb.; gentlemen's first prize, Mr. Sam McCracken of Colorado City; ladies' consolation prize, Mrs. Lottie Rickman, West Colorado Springs; gentleman's consolation prize, Mr. J. S. Johnson, West Colorado Springs. All voted the party a complete success and acknowledged the A. O. O. P. as royal entertainers.

If you are looking for genuine bargains, see the 14K solid gold Elgin watches at Nelson, the jeweler's, selling at from $17 to $20.

NOTICE—To all members of Colorado City Harbor No. 67, American Order of Protection, your secretary will be found at the Columbine dining hall every Friday afternoon. Those that would like to see her please call at that time, as there will be no further notice. Mrs. Mary Hall, Secretary.

See Rankin about your winter coal. You get the best, cleanly and promptly delivered. 516½ Colorado avenue.

JA HOOL BOARD—The school board met last night at the Longfellow building for the purpose of paying of the several amounts still due to the contractors who had in charge the construction of the new buildings. The larger part of the payments had already been made, the entire amount, including the last payments, which were made last night, being as follows: To John Nelswinter, $17,-[illegible]; to A. J. Radebagh, $12,[illegible]; to J. Dillon, $1,200; to H. W. Davis & Co., $5,200.

SAW A BUCK—C. O. Enos and Arthur Adams returned yesterday from their week's hunting trip on Bald mountain. They did not succeed in bringing back any big game, but came very close to getting a fine buck, which only escaped their marksmanship by plunging into the dense timber.

LAYING WALKS—The work of putting in the new cement walks, ordered by the city council, is still going forward, and it will not be long until the work is completed on both sides of Colorado avenue from First street to Eleventh. The Artificial Granite company, whose factory is at the Ninth street corner, is doing the greater part of the work, and is at present laying the sidewalk in front of Mr. Jackson's new block at Sixth street.

HUNTING TRIP—H. W. Davis and Olin Stewart left early yesterday morning for La Junta for a two weeks' hunting trip. They will leave the railroad at La Junta and go south about 25 miles, where it is reported there is splendid hunting for both large and small game, antelope, bear and ducks and geese being especially plentiful. Mr. Davis says they will be sure to be back by election day. The firm's plumbing business will be in charge of Mr. Price during Mr. Davis' absence.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. C. B. Bennett and Mr. L. M. Fields of the Rugby Coal company were in Denver yesterday attending the funeral of Mr. Morris, the president of the Rugby Coal Mining company, whose recent death has been mentioned.

Mrs. C. B. Butterfield is moving from her home on Lincoln avenue to Mr. Colorado avenue, West Colorado Springs.

Mr. J. W. Palmer of Victor is spending a few days in the city with his family. Mr. Palmer is thinking of locating in Colorado City permanently.

Professor Virchow's Civic Service. The highest kind of patriotism, the most conscientious pride in the civic life of which he was a part, impelled him to take office. How he found time to be a conscientious legislator, and even to be a partaker in the social life of the capital, it is impossible to explain. But the fact remains that he was for 42 years one of Berlin's most faithful councillors. Moreover, this did not satisfy his desire to serve his state, and in 1862, no fewer than three constituencies elected him to the Prussian chamber in which he served for 16 years and speedily rose to be the leader of the Liberal party by sheer ability and undaunted political courage. After city and state there was still the empire however, and in its popular governing body, the Reichstag, Virchow served from 1880 to 1893, until turned out by the ungrateful Social Democrats.

It was in the Prussian chamber that he rendered his greatest legislative services. Never an orator, his speeches were clear, forcible, and marked by intense earnestness, and as such they always attracted attention. Bismarck found it necessary to cross swords with him time and again. So natural and so outspoken a radical was naturally a red flag to the wonderful but unscrupulous chancellor. How could the bureaucracy or aristocracy admire a man who would have his countrymen ground arms whatever the nation's perils? How could they admire one who again and again arraigned the Prussian ministry as he had arraigned it on his return from Silesia? How could the blood-and-iron patriots else than abhor one who, in 1865, defeated the attempt to create a German navy? Or who had in 1862 forced the chamber to pass a resolution condemning the government? His success in the latter matter so irritated Bismarck as to lead him to challenge the undersigned, spectacled professor to a duel, which was fortunately prevented, but the threat of which did not induce Virchow to soften his language, often described as violent and smacking of the demagogue by those who felt the lash of his tongue. Nor did his being deprived of the rectorate of the University of Berlin, in 1857, for a period of five years, affect his championship of what he considered the right. So great a man was above both the rewards and punishments of offended royalty. In the wars of 1866 and of 1870-71 he proved to his political opponents that he possessed the cheaper patriotism by conducting the first ambulance trains into hostile territories, and devoting to the Red Cross work his extraordinary talent for organization. And all the while, if there was a hospital to be built, a new quarter to be laid out, the police to be reorganized, the drainage to be improved, the water supply to be increased, or the public health to be better safeguarded, it was always to Virchow that the magistrates of Berlin went seeking information and the advice which always determined the action to be taken. Is it any wonder that the city has named its newest hospital after him, or that it buried him at its own expense on its most splendid site?—[From a sketch of "Rudolf Virchow, Germany's Grand Old Man of Science," by Oswald Garrison Villard, in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for October.

Win a competency by quiet saving and judicious investment where one gets rich by speculation. It is not so much the amount made as the amount saved that counts in the long run. And if the sums saved are made to earn interest, the result is still more pronounced. Banks usually pay no interest on deposits. Savings banks pay small interest rates. Amusements

"ALPHONSE AND GASTON."

"Alphonse and Gaston," that mirthful musical comedy which has kept the American public on the qui vive of expectancy for its production, will be seen for the first time at the Opera house tomorrow evening.

"Alphonse and Gaston," as every newspaper reader from Eastport, Me., to the Golden Gate in California, knows, are two mythical Frenchmen, whose ultra politeness places them in the most absurd and ridiculous positions imaginable, and causes one continuous round of laughter from the rise of the curtain to its fall.

The characters of Alphonse and Gaston are assumed by those favorite and well-known comedians, Mathews and Ashley, assisted by such artists as Eugene Bowers, Thomas Daly, C. H. Burroughs, Miss Helen Darling, Miss Vernie White, Miss Minnie Burroughs, and others. The musical numbers, as sung by a chorus of 30, are gems, chosen from the most popular authors of the day and their tuneful and catchy melody will cause them to be sung by every man and boy from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It is indeed a stupendous production of stage, scenic effects and costumes, abounding with hilarious situations, by-words and witticisms, that will become the popular fad of the day.

TIM MURPHY.

Tim Murphy's revival of "Old Innocence," this season, is as welcome a bit of news as theater-goers of this city could wish for.

So great was his success during the two years he played this comedy that he could have continued to it the past four seasons instead of bringing out new plays, but Mr. Murphy is not only ambitious, he has a great fear of becoming too closely identified with one part.

It is almost impossible to think of Joseph Jefferson at anything but "Rip Van Winkle" or of O'Neill in "Monte Cristo," and Louis Morrison as Mephistopheles in "Faust," and our younger actors are taking care not to run the same risk, but it looked at the beginning of Mr. Murphy's career as if Maverick Brander, in "A Texas Steer," would handicap him.

His success in the "Carpet Baggers," "A Bachelor's Romance" and "A Capitol Comedy," as well as "Old Innocence," have drawn him out of the rut. Mr. Murphy's appearance in this city will be at the Opera house next week.

[illegible] CONCERT CO.

The [illegible] audience room and gallery of the First Methodist church were filled last evening at the opening of the Lyceum course, given under the auspices of the Epworth league. To the George R. Iott Concert company was given the honor of opening the course, and if the standard set by them be carried on through the remainder of the course the young people of the Methodist church will deserve the thanks of the community.

To Miss Agnes Pringle must be accorded the first place in the company, although where all did so well it is difficult to single out one for especial praise. Miss Pringle is a very young lady and if her playing promises as she gains years she certainly has a brilliant future before her. Miss Pringle is not only perfect in the more mechanical details of her playing, but she has a depth of expression rarely found except among the noted performers. She put soul into every selection she rendered and her choice of subjects was in perfect taste. Her playing of the "Revolt" was the musical feature of the entire program. She played it with a feeling and delicacy that charmed. In duets with Miss Tarrant she did not show up quite as well as in her solos, but even in her duets she showed herself an artist.

The work of Miss Tarrant on the harp was of the highest order. Her instrument was of fine tone and she handled the strings as though they were dear friends. Her playing of "Echoes of a Waterfall" was beautiful, and in one's imagination the woodland cataract could be distinctly seen. In her duet with Miss Pringle the harpist rather had the better of it, partly due to the more penetrating tones of her instrument, but also due to her own artistic work.

Mr. Caveny's chalk talks were popular with the audience, but it is impossible to comment on them at any length, as his drawings were invisible from the press seats. In his first number he drew a portrait of the late Bill Nye and then changed it successively into Shakespeare and Buffalo Bill. He also drew a sunrise and changed it into all the phases of the day, ending with an ice scene. As an encore to the second set of drawings Mr. Caveny drew a caricature of Dr. Wilcox, the popular pastor of the church. The accuracy of these portraits is impossible for the writer to state. Mr. Caveny's chalk talks brought out more than ever before the poorly planned seating arrangements of the new church. Not more than one-half of the audience had a good view of the drawings. During the last number on the program Mr. Caveny sketched a scene at the sink, "Home, Sweet Home." This was well drawn, and was further helped out by the theme to which it was followed.

Mr. George R. Iott, from whom the company is named is the possessor of a wonderful bass voice. Notwithstanding its depth it was never harsh and was always mellow and rich. Mr. Iott was a favorite with the audience. His singing of "The Three Fishers" and "Way Down Upon the Swanee River" were his best efforts, although all his work was of a high order. Taken as a company the Iott troupe is well entitled to the patronage of any city it visits. All the members are artists in their respective lines and all showed taste and judgment in their selections. The program follows:

"Schubert's Song"...Arr. by John Thomas
Miss Pringle and Miss Tarrant.
Solo—"Three Fishers"...Kingsley
Mr. Iott.
"Melody in F"...John Thomas
Miss Tarrant.
"Hands-up"...Caveny
Mr. Caveny.
"Il Jo Kall"...Hubay
Miss Pringle.
Song—"When Tan Big El Boss Soldier"...Medley
Mr. Iott.
"Echoes of a Waterfall"...John Thomas
Miss Tarrant.
Humorous "Sketches"...Caveny
Mr. Caveny.
"Reverie"...Vieuxtemps
Miss Pringle.
"Auf Wiedersehen"...
The Misses Pringle and Tarrant and Messrs. Iott and Caveny.

"UNDER TWO FLAGS."

"Under Two Flags" was the attraction at the Opera house last night, and the presentation of Potter's dramatization of Ouida's well-known love story was the best that has been seen here. Jane Kennark gave the role of Cigarette an interpretation that could not well be improved upon in any respect. Persons who remember Blanche Bates clearly may have an impression that Jane Kennark is not possessed of as much personal beauty but she is possessed of everything essential to the role. It is a role that calls for spirit, rather than for beauty, and she has the spirit. The sudden flights of emotion, mingling irresistible hate with unfathomable love, making the "child of the army," willing to kill her lover if necessary to save him, as willing, on the other hand, to die to save him—the execution of an impulse in her every act or inclination—free and careless of everything, yet stirred to the depths of her soul with love—earth's noblest inspiration—Jane Kennark played the part.

Emmet C. King played Bertie Cecil without a fault, while Theodore Marston as John, Earl of Buckingham, "the fast friend," was equally strong in his interpretation of the part. Cecil Needell's curtain-taker, and in "Jack" he found a good one. Robert Folsom, as "Bake," Cecil's servant, also was one of the particularly strong members of the company.

The presentation of the play was replete with intense dramatic situations. The slicing of the cucumber and the writing of the letter to "My Dear Little Girl," were of no less interest and brought out no less excellent acting than the thrilling scene in the camp of the Bedouins or even the death scene. But the production is too familiar, by reason of its long popularity and the familiarity of the public with the novel to need relating as a story. The company was a uniformly strong one, with exceptional ability in the four leading roles, the costumes were elaborate and sufficient and the staging was complete and in strict accordance with the story.

The play added another production to the list of attractions that will prove, if it continues as satisfactory as it has been to date, the best season that the local Opera house has known for several years.

REASSURING.

"Hurra! Hurra! Stop kissing me wife or I'll brain you!"
"Tut! tut! Mike. Don't mind him. Sure he's drunk."

THE USUAL WAY.

Suburbus—I'm carrying it because I can't lift it.

him at his own expense on its most [illegible] set as much food as possible into a small space, for when we traveled we could only be sure of two meals—one breakfast and one dinner—during the three days and nights of continuous traveling.

We made inquiries about the outside places, thinking they might be preferable, but some fellow-passengers, who were old hands at such traveling, explained that when the couch upon the outside passengers were those to suffer; the insides come off, as a rule, with a few bruises, the others getting the broken arms and the like; and this unbalanced our desire for the open air. Not that one suffered from want of air, for the couch has no windows at all; glass would not stand the jolting for an hour. There is a tarpaulin that one may unroll and pull down over the windows when the rain comes in intolerably. The sun one must bear, for if the tarpaulin is down, it is too insufferably hot.—(J. W. LEGAL NOTICES

SPECIAL STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.
A special meeting of the stockholders of the Morning Star Gold Mining company is called by resolution of the board of directors, as provided by art. 7, sec. 4, of the by-laws of the company, for Monday, the 27th day of October, 1902, at 12 o'clock noon, at the offices of the company, 60 Postoffice building, Colorado Springs, Colo.
The object of said meeting is to ratify, or annul, and take all proper action concerning an option-contract granted by your directors on the 17th day of September, 1902, to Mr. C. C. Heming. The terms of said option-contract being as follows, to-wit:
An option-contract to sell all the real estate owned by the company for the sum fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), payable on or before December 15, 1902, Mr. Heming depositing in escrow, together with the contract and deed, a certified check for $2,500.00 to be paid at any time prior to said December 15, 1902, when a valid meeting of the stockholders shall have ratified the contract, or withdrawn from escrow if not ratified. Furthermore, if the option-contract is ratified by the stockholders, said $2,500.00 is to be applied on the purchase price in case of a sale, or retained in the treasury of the company as liquidated damages in case no sale is made.
Books for the transfer of stock will close at 5 o'clock on Wednesday, the 22d day of October, 1902, and reopen three days after the final adjournment of said meeting.
If you cannot be present at the meeting please send your proxy to anybody attending the meeting or to the following directors: H. H. Barber, F. L. Bedford, J. D. Ford or F. H. Gray, or either of them.
H. H. Barber, President.
C. N. Smith, Secretary.

BIDS FOR OTERO CANAL CONSTRUCTION.
Sealed bids will be received until 10 o'clock a. m. November 1, 1902, by the Otero Irrigation district for the excavation of about 350,000 cubic yards of earth and rock along the line of the Otero canal, and for the construction of timber dam across the Arkansas river, for about 730 lineal feet of wooden pile line and for such other structures as may be determined upon. Bids to give price per cubic yard of excavation and per 1,000 board measure. Bids will be received for all or any part of the above work, and are solicited both to be paid in cash or in bonds of the said district. Plans and specifications are on file and may be seen in the office of the board of directors, which is at the office of the secretary, M. F. Miller, or at the office of the chief engineer, F. T. Lewis, at La Junta, Colo. The board of directors hereby reserves the right to reject any and all bids.
M. F. Miller, Secretary.

WEATHER FORECAST

Washington, Oct. 17.—Forecast for Colorado: Fair Saturday and Sunday.

Satisfied people wear Asmby's spectacles.

PLAZA HOTEL—Reduced rates for winter. J. M. Ward, manager.

OFFICE MOVED—George Gardiner has moved his law office from the Bank block to suite 37, Giddings block.

INVENTORY FILED—Judge Orr of the county court yesterday gave permission for the filing of an inventory in the estate of William D. Lashbrook et al.

ORR WILL ATTEND—Judge J. A. Orr of the county court goes to Denver today to attend a meeting of the county judges of the state for the purpose of discussing revisions in the probate laws.

BROUGHT BACK LEWIS BACK—Sheriff Gilbert returned last evening from Salida with Earlee Lewis, the colored girl who skipped her bond while awaiting trial and a charge of grand larceny.

MISS NATHAN of Denver will reopen her classes in dancing October 26, at the Antlers. Beginners' class Thursdays. Children under 8 from 2:30 to 4. Masters and Misses from 4 to 6 p. m. Advanced classes Fridays 4 to 6 p. m.

CALLED THE DEPARTMENT—Fire in a barn in the rear of 228 South Cascade street did damage to the extent of about $25 yesterday. The barn is owned by Mrs. S. Wilcox. An alarm from box 48 brought out a portion of the department.

REGISTERING MACHINE—City Treasurer Voorheese rejoices in the temporary possession of a Burroughs registering machine which has been placed in his office on trial. The machine is badly needed and was a silver lining of Work Bros. to bought by the city for $250.

BOUGHT A HOME—The property at 61 North Cluster avenue has been sold this week to Matie E. Cromer, who has lately come here with his family from the east to reside. Consideration was $2,500. The deal was closed by H. A. Barton.

There are yet a few reasonable priced rooms at the Alta Vista hotel.

KNOB HILL LOT NO. 2—Charles E. Noble has transferred by warranty deed filed in the office of the county clerk yesterday all of block 21, first addition to Knob Hill, to William G. Templeton. The consideration named is nominal.

MORTGAGE FILED—A chattel mortgage was filed in the office of the county clerk yesterday, given by C. E. Tyler to William M. Strickler, covering the greater part of the furniture in the Elk hotel on Pike's Peak avenue. The amount of the mortgage is placed at $6,750.

SOLD FOR LOVE—"For love and affection I bear my son and $1 in hand paid," is the consideration whereby Henry Newcomer transfers to Henry Earl Newcomer, lot 11, block 7 Goshen's subdivision of block 282, addition No. 1 to Colorado Springs. The grantor reserves the right of possession of the premises and the profits during his natural life.

Save car fare and have your noon meal at the Alta Vista cafe. It will surprise you.

COLORADO SPRINGS LEADS—According to the latest report of the board of health, Colorado Springs has 20 cases of typhoid, six of which were contracted elsewhere; Canon City has 25, Pueblo 44, Trinidad 55 and Denver 93 and Colorado Springs therefore still leads in point of healthfulness.

HOMESTEAD CERTIFICATE—John J. Hall has filed his homestead certificate with the county clerk on 160 acres in section 28, township 11, range 66 near Calhan. Minnie M. Reed, minor orphan of Guy M. Reed, has filed a homestead certificate of 160 acres in section 32, township 13, range 65.

RUMMAGE SALE TONIGHT—The rummage sale that is being given at 210 South Cascade avenue for the benefit of the Boys club will be open this evening from 5:30 until 10:00 o'clock. Ladies will be at the rooms free, 1 to 6 this afternoon to receive goods. Men's clothing is especially wanted.

KIT CARSON CIRCLE—Kit Carson circle L. G. A. R., is permanently located in Woodman of the World hall, corner Tejon and Huerfano streets, over Bert Robbins' store and will hold the regular business meetings there the first and third Wednesdays of each month at 2 o'clock. On Wednesday afternoon, October 29, the ladies will hold a social and 10-cent tea in their new hall. Proceeds for relief. Everybody invited.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Complete Statement of His Position Relative to the Negotiations for the Settlement of the Coal Strike.

By Associated Press

Washington Oct 16—The following correspondence consisting of the letter of President Roosevelt to John Mitchell president of the United Mine Workers and the latter's reply were made public at the White House today

White House Washington Oct 16, 1902.—Mr John Mitchell President of the United Mine Workers of America Wilkesbarre Pa

I have appointed as commissioners Brigadier General John M Wilson Mr E W Parker Judge George Gray Mr E E Clark Mr Thomas Watkins and Bishop John Spalding with Hon Carroll D Wright as recorder. These names are accepted by the operators and I now most earnestly ask and urge that the miners likewise accept the commission It is a matter of vital concern to all our people and especially to those in our great cities who are least well off that the mining of coal should be resumed without a day's unnecessary delay

(Signed) Theodore Roosevelt

Wilkesbarre Pa Oct 16 1902—Hon. Theodore Roosevelt President of the United States Washington D C I am in receipt of your telegram of October 16 which reads as follows

I have appointed as commissioners Brigadier-General John M Wilson Mr E W Parker Judge George Gray Mr E E Clark Mr Thomas H Watkins and Bishop Spalding with Hon Carroll D Wright as recorder. These names are accepted by the operators and I now most earnestly ask and urge that the miners likewise accept the commission It is a matter of vital concern to all our people and especially to those in our great cities who are least well off that the mining of coal should be resumed without a day's unnecessary delay

Replying thereto I beg to inform you that your recommendations were submitted to the members of the executive boards of district 1 7 and 8 United Mine Workers of America and they have unanimously agreed to call a delegate convention to be held next Monday and will recommend to the convention that all men now on strike return to the positions and working places formerly occupied by them and submit to the commission appointed by you all questions at issue between the operators and mine workers of the anthracite coal fields In connection with this subject we are glad to know that the managers of the coal companies have decided to remove from the unthinkable position which they so long occupied and to accept a modified proposition for the arbitration of the coal strike and to give you full latitude in the selection of a commission It will be remembered that we proposed on October 3 to place the whole matter in your hands and to accept any verdict of a tribunal of your own selection It will also be remembered that the company managers at that time refused to accept the arbitrament of the president of the United States and preferred that of the local common pleas judges We proposed to leave everything to you without condition or reservation having the utmost faith in your impartiality and good judgment.

In their refusal to accept your arbitrament the operators sought to hold you in part accountable for the very conditions which you were trying to remedy and to instruct you as to your duties concerning them Eight days later they again appeared before you dropping the common pleas judge and proposing to abide by the verdict of a tribunal appointed by you but attempting to prescribe within fixed and narrow limits the character and vocation of the men you were to name This proposition as the operators made it was unalterably opposed First because our respect for you as a man and our ideas as to what is due to the dignity of your office demanded that we should not be a party to a request of you to accept this great responsibility accompanied by detailed and impertinent restrictions as to the manner in which you should meet it and because careful analysis of their proposition disclosed to us as it did to you and the public that the restrictions were too narrow to enable you to secure under them a well balanced and thoroughly impartial tribunal

But now that you have yourself removed these objections by broadening and strengthening the commission we feel confident that our convention will declare its willingness to have all questions between the employing companies and the 95 per cent of their employes who are members of our organization determined by the board of eminent and impartial men chosen by you We feel grateful to you Mr President, for the faithful efforts which you have made to bring about an honorable settlement of the strike efforts which you continued despite the remarkable spirit and conduct which you at first found in the company managers We were in a position to sympathize with you inasmuch as we had long been forced to endure arrogance insult and false witness from the same source Our gratitude is due to you and to the American people and the press who have supported you and us in the long struggle which we hope is now about to close During all these long months in which our motives have been impugned and our characters maliciously assailed we have refrained from saying a word or taking any action which would tend to render reconciliation more difficult, but it now becomes a duty to defend ourselves against the slanders which have been heaped upon us and to proclaim that we have from the first favored practically the method which is now employed to break the deadlock

If our proffer of arbitration or impartial investigation had been accepted six months ago instead of now there could have been no strike We have been so eager Mr President to respond to the people's demand for coal that during the progress of the strike we have more than once offered arbitration but we have invariably been met with the reply We will not permit outsiders to dictate to us in the management of our own affairs. We have nothing to arbitrate

Now that the managers of the companies have been compelled by you and a thoroughly aroused public conscience to recede from this position we are proud that the firmness and the heroic endurance of our men and women in support of their rights and of a vital American principle have won the victory

The poor, under-paid mine workers of these coal regions who toil hard from early morning until late at night for a livelihood, nobly supported by organized labor in this and other lands have taught these corporation managers a useful lesson in civic and social duty We exult over these tributes to the dignity of labor because it is the triumph of right and of good public policy We do not however, exult over our opponents, we appeal to them now as we have from the first, to turn their eyes to the future and to co-operate with us in an effort to establish better relations between employer and employed for the aid of both

We forgive them their arrogant refusal to deal with us and in this hour, when they are forced to acknowledge their inability to operate their mines without our assistance and co-operation we hold out the right hand of friendship and ask them to join with us in securing immediate relations and wholesome conditions in this region We further think even the false accusations which they have made against us They charged us with being criminals rioters and anarchists and our organization they denounced as lawless and irresponsible They know and did know that their charges were untrue and without foundation in fact they knew that every officer of the United Mine Workers of America from the president down has constantly urged upon its membership the imperative need of respecting the law that every man who commits a deed of violence is an enemy to our cause has been our watchword Despite these admonitions supported with all our influence there have been a few crimes and a number of misdemeanors chargeable to those on strike But Mr President we make the unqualified declaration that imported guardians of law and order the coal companies or hired thugs have committed more outrages than could have been committed by the entire body of men on strike during the same time and for which they have been charged to the great army of men who have been in idleness for the past five months We have repeatedly and in language not susceptible of misconstruction condemned transgressions of law on the part of those on strike we challenge the coal companies to point to one public utterance on their part in which they have even deprecated acts of violence committed by their hired guards

We declare that it was unfair and unmanly for the coal road presidents to insult us while we were your guests and charge our organization with responsibility for acts of lawlessness during the strike it would be just as logical to charge the American army in the Philippines with being an army of murderers torturers and robbers because a few crimes were committed by soldiers there Until the millennium there will be crimes in every community and human nature is the same no better and no worse among the half million people dependent upon us in the coal fields as it is everywhere in our country

The pretense of the operators that they were unable to produce coal because intimidation kept from working workmen who were willing to work has been proven false by the fact that the production which they demanded has increased rather than increased the number of men mining coal A hundred thousand troops could not have enabled the operators to start their mines for the simple reason that the men who work them are members of the United Mine Workers of America men who were determined to stand to the last for their right to organize and through their organization to demand better wages and improved conditions of employment Deprivation misrepresentation and troops together were not sufficient to drive them into submission They stood shoulder to shoulder to the last The operators declared that they would have nothing to do with the United Mine Workers of America, but they have found it necessary to recognize the power of the United Mine Workers of America through you Mr President and to seek terms of peace which will enable them to resume their business of mining and selling coal The recognition of our strength thus forced upon the operators by stern necessity we exult over not in any narrow spirit, but because we believe it marks a forward step toward a nobler era Upon the foundations laid through war we are ready to join with them in building for better conditions and a long and lasting peace The United Mine Workers of America since its organization in the anthracite field has constantly sought to establish

First Such wages and just conditions of labor conditions just to both employer and employe Such we have never made demands beyond the ability of the industry to pay on a basis of equitable division of profits between labor and capital

Second And that relations between employers and employes the latter speaking through their organization and such organization aiding the employer in maintaining discipline adjusting difficulties by conciliatory methods settling local strikes and lockouts and securing stable and satisfactory conditions in the industry Our organization by the same methods which we have proposed has secured just such relations and just such results in the coal fields of the country Organization like an individual must stand upon what it has done and the life it has lived We invite scrutiny and investigation of our motives and character In the soft coal fields we have joint conferences with the operators and with them we adjust differences We sign joint agreements together we preserve discipline settle disputes and maintain harmony and stability in the trade We have asked the anthracite operators to inquire if the coal operators how with them we are pleased with their business relations with us whether or not we keep agreements and render satisfactory service for wages paid to our members Our business men might thus learn more of both what is the character of our organization Many soft coal operators have publicly declared that they would not dispense with our co operation and would deem it a disaster if compelled to get back to the chaotic conditions which existed when their labor was unorganized Upon our past record we are willing to stand or fall We invite and have invited the anthracite operators to adopt these business methods and to deal with us on this basis Despite repeated rebuffs we persisted but this repeated any attempt upon our part to organize the employes they refused our overtures to amicable discussion that a suitable satisfactory adjustment of wage differences in joint conference They refused to have any dealings with their employes except as individuals they refused conciliation and refused arbitration thus put their backs against the wall, prepared and their forces militarily again to progress they thought themselves stronger than the great union principle which is making such headway throughout the world that while combining their corporations and pooling their interests in hard and fast alliance they would deny the men who worked for them the right to organize and preach through their organization

When the anthracite operators on they attempted to justify themselves upon the false plea that ours is an irresponsible organization when we demonstrated our responsibility and stability they then asserted that we were a lawless organization which was dominated by violence

When operators attempted to limit efforts to settle the strike they declared their divinely appointed right to be let alone When representatives of national and state governments tried to mediate they resented such meddling by politicians But thanks to you Mr President and to the power of public opinion they have been brought to a realization of the fact that the interests or welfare of the American people cannot be ignored with impunity

By the eminent tribunal which you have named we have confidence that justice will be done as people We are glad to have a chance to appear before such a court empowered to consider and dispose of all questions at issue First among these is the demand of the mine workers for increased wages and a reduction of the hours of labor second is the relations which ought to exist between the employer and the organization which the men have formed and which they authorize to speak for them

From this arbitration we hope and believe will come a complete satisfactory and permanent solution of the troubles which have vexed the anthracite field from time immemorial

Respectfully yours

John Mitchell

MEXICAN COMMENT ON PIUS FUND DECISION

By Associated Press

Mexico City Mex Oct 17—El Tiempo a leading clerical daily here comments sharply on the decision of The Hague tribunal in the matter of the Pius fund In a leading article El Tiempo says the court might have condemned Mexico to pay an amount which would have ruined her without hesitation and parodying the celebrated phrase of "let nations perish but let principles survive" as if the future of the country were to be subordinated to the prejudices of four old men buried in their studies and who do not know through how many years of self sacrifice Mexico has had to pass to accumulate the sum in question which it intended to use to give increased impetus to its progress but which by a stroke of the pen it is forced to deliver to California bishops who, as the arbitrators well know will employ it in anything but the improvement of the unfortunate Indians in whose behalf they have claimed it

El Imparcial the Liberal morning paper comments at length on the decision which, it says "proves that the arbitrators were, though highly respectable, not superhuman, although they made a sufficiently meritorious effort to be impartial in declaring the interest must be paid in silver

SECRETARY OF TREASURY ANNOUNCES BOND PURCHASE

By Associated Press

Washington Oct 17—Following is the official statement of the secretary of the treasury on the announced purchase of 4 per cent. bonds of 1925

By virtue of the authority contained in section 3694 of the revised statutes, notice is hereby given that this department will purchase for the sinking fund on Friday and Saturday the 17th and 18th instant, any United States 4 per cent bonds of the loan of 1925, and pay for them at the rate of 137 3-4 and interest to date of purchase The department will also receive the same class of bonds on Monday, the 20th instant and pay for them as purchased on the 18th

Prepaid interest and missing coupons will be deducted at the face value thereon from the purchase price of the bonds As the books of this loan are now closed against transfers, the interest due November 1 on registered bonds upon which interest has not been prepaid will also be deducted and will be paid in the usual way by check to the order of the owner of record

Registered bonds should be assigned in due form to the secretary of the treasury for purchase and the assignment should be dated and witnessed by one of the officers named in the note printed on the back of the bonds

Bonds may be presented at this department division of loans and currency or at the office of the assistant treasurer of the United States at New York

COMMISSIONER WRIGHT WILL NOT HAVE ANY VOTE

By Associated Press

Washington Oct 17—Hon Carroll D Wright as recorder of the commission to arbitrate the anthracite coal dispute will not have a vote The following authoritative statement is made

The commission is so constituted that it will require a two thirds vote to settle any point upon which there is a dispute

That means that Colonel Wright is not to be regarded as a member of the commission in passing upon questions at issue before it. An official of the war department with a great deal of experience said

In all military boards and courts the recorder has not vote but he is the man who runs the board

Colonel Wright will keep the records summon witnesses carry out the orders of the commission and perhaps prepare its report under instructions

RUMMAGE SALE IS PROVING BIG SUCCESS

The opening of the second day of the rummage sale for the benefit of the Boys Club association found the enthusiastic workers entirely exhausted, yet very happy over the receipts which were gratifyingly large So it was decided to close at 6 o'clock and reopen at 1 p m today and continue until 10 p m When the sale is to be held longer depends upon whether there is anything to be disposed of

The management wish the announcement made that if they had $100 worth more of good serviceable clothing it would find ready purchasers Everything desirable is culled out by persons who are apparently worthy of receiving the benefits Contributions will be received by the committee as already named in a card sent after 6 o'clock to the place of sale, South East Alley

COLLEGE WOMEN ASKED TO LEND THEIR AID

A number of young women formerly students in Colorado college wish to call a meeting of all women who have been at any time connected with the college or with Cutler academy on Saturday morning next at 10 o'clock at the residence of Mrs J A Lockhart 110 North Nevada avenue.

At this time it is hoped some means may be devised whereby these women can assist the members of the Educational society in the extensive work they are doing for the present student body

This work is so personal and is conducted so quietly that few save those who as students have been helped by it realize its extent

It is especially appropriate that all former students should be interested in a plan that will strengthen this work and it is hoped that each woman who has been connected in any way with the college or with the academy will consider this a personal invitation

Buttonhole Interviews

Early morning pedestrians were startled yesterday by hearing a newsboy on Tejon street shouting

All about the settlement of the big strike by Teddy Roosevelt the man behind the gun

The small black bear which all day long gazes dolefully through the bars of a cage in the window of the Premium grocery store was very sad the other night The chill winds swept down Pikes Peak avenue and whistled through his house reminding him of the glorious air of freedom up there on the mountain side and of the warm den beneath the rock which he wots not of

I wonder he mused, as he tried to find a warmer and softer corner of the cage I wonder who it was said something about what fools these mortals be I'd like to meet that person and shake him by the paw I would like to commune with Ernest Seton Thompson for a while and pour forth my troubles to him the great expounder of things animal

Who in the world ever suggested to man and woman kind that bears like to have umbrellas and canes poked into their hides" Who ever conceived the idea that I enjoy having people blow their breath all over me to see me growl—especially when those breaths are onion laden" Who told that staid old citizen that just went by that I might enjoy having him expose to view all my charms Who caused that dainty young lady to think it would make me cavort about to have her stand in front of my cage for half an hour flourishing her handful of pocket book, muslin handkerchief and dress and wildly chirp shoo What demon possessed the mind of the small boy to induce him to peg pebbles through these bars at me And who ch who told these people who are keeping me in durance vile that I could make a meal off anything from tenpenny nails to rubber shoes Tell me these Wangs and Bruin Bill himself I say to pigs

Does that dog owner this side of Jordan know a stranger of a Gazette man yesterday He referred to a large and very sleepy canine of the color of grizzly bear who spends the bulk of daylight hours on the sidewalk before a certain grocery store on Pikes Peak avenue Every time I walk along this block the gentleman remarked that beast squats in front of me and I have to turn out Once I kicked him just a little little kick and he opened one eye winked at me and returned to his slumbers I remember particularly the day Kingsley's circus was in town The sidewalk was jammed with two streams of people going in different directions It seemed to differ not to his dogship He simply would not for either carrots or cowage but slept on serenely forming a division point for the throng one side passing on either side of him Time and time again I have noticed him there at the height of excitement himself would have to turn it for him I suggest that he be a recipient for the spare change corpses

When the gentleman says I'll bet at the dog sleeps between the outer doors of the store I might add very safe await when next day comes near he said he was glad in the lazy beast was of some good and walked away

SUCCESSFUL RALLY OF SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS

First Baptist church was well filled last night at the rally of the Sunday school workers of the city Not only were practically all persons prominent in the local work present but there were many from outside the city in attendance It was a successful meeting in every way and full of real interest Rev J C Carman of Denver field secretary of the State Sunday School association delivered the main address of the evening and it was a powerfully instructive and helpful discourse

The meeting was opened by devotional exercises conducted by Miss Ida B Palmer The lesson brought out was Joshua called by God and the great work done by him under God Mrs Fred F Horn spoke of the primary union and its work Professor W L Stark spoke along the line of the Sunday school superintendent's work and responsibility his talk being full of interest Professor Ritchie president of the El Paso County Sunday School association made a brief talk in which he stated that there were two plans to be carried out one being the resumption of the Sunday School Superintendents union and the other a Sunday school census

Rev C K Powell spoke along the lines of the work of the Colorado State Sunday School association and was followed by Mr Carman

Mr Carmans discourse was a masterly one He dealt with Sunday school work in general and in Colorado in particular He referred to the teaching of the young in the Sunday school covering a wide field and taking a number of points in detail to illustrate his subject such as destiny character habit education choice feeling and knowledge Mr Carman has had great experience in the line of work on which he spoke and his address was not only highly interesting but very instructive to his auditors

Mrs Fairchild gave a lesson on how to teach song to the primary department and Mrs J A Walker state superintendent of primary work also spoke All in all it was a decidedly profitable meeting

WEATHER BUREAU'S ECLIPSE PREDICTIONS ARE FAR FROM CORRECT

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good is a saying that applied last night when Miss Luna took it into her fair head to conceal herself behind the earth for a few hours To illustrate all the students of astronomy hereabouts went into proxysms of delight at the opportunity to study such a rare occurrence Then on the other hand it cost the electric light company money on account of this whim of the moon

For the past week or so Colorado Springs has been having moonlight nights, that were simply marvelous Even the darkest corners of the city have been transformed into daylight and Luna has been shedding a veritable calcium light everywhere The light company rejoiced and turned out its lights Be it known there is a rule of the Village descended from the dark ages which permits the company to do this when the moon is out in sufficient glory to make the artificial lights apparently unnecessary The lonely pedestrian who wanders homeward after nightfall to some far away corner of the city may have other ideas on this subject but they don't apply

The moon beat the game last night Up to 9 o'clock all was lovely and the street lamps burned not, thereby saving the company several dollars of our daily ale Then the shadow of Old Earth began slowly playing tag across the face of Luna and the city was in total darkness so thick that it could be felt The result of this maneuver on the part of the friendly sun was to bring out the lights in full force

The company loses and it was said to be the only case on record

Executive Committee Had a Meeting

The executive committee of the Women's club met yesterday at 10 a m with the chairman Mrs F E Brooks in her home 1324 North Nevada avenue

It was voted that the club donate $5 to the loan fund being raised by the scholarship committee of the Colorado Federation of Women's clubs Also that $1 50 be sent to Mrs A M Welles, chairman of the traveling library committee for the purchase of a book to be placed in the Minnie M Harding' box which is to be so named for the retiring president of the federation

It was recommended that the suggestion of the members of the social science department of this club—that the club members do not go to the polls in election carriages and urge their friends to pursue the same course also that as many as possible vote and encourage others to do so be brought before the club at the next general meeting

NEXPECTED PHENOMENA DURING MOON'S ECLIPSE

Aw G wan
Hey youse guys will break dem lamps
Quit makin dem goo-goo eyes
You don't want no cheese

The above remarks were some of those indulged in by the vast throng of youthful citizens of the town who had assembled to witness the goings on at the Wolcott observatory at Colorado college last night

The moon was eclipsed but it wasn't in it with the evident earnestness of the bunch of youngsters who thronged the observatory and made life far from being one sweet dream for Prof Loud instructor of astronomy at the college who had consented to explain to the public the mysteries of the lunar eclipse and allow them to view the phenomena through the college telescope To hear the throng of kids discuss the question at issue as to whether the eclipse was caused by the sun going down behind the peak backwards or not, and other like matters one would imagine for an instant that he had been transported to Boston so great was the knowledge displayed by the coming generation on scientific matters As early as 8 o clock the lads and a plentiful supply of girls were lined up before the observatory waiting for the doors to open and it was not long before it was necessary to display the S R O sign on the portals

The youngsters thronged the building climbed out on the roof fell through the windows and created all manner of mischief generally while the older persons who managed to squeeze into the building, were unable to get a good glance of the telescope even

An attempt was made to photograph the eclipse at the college but owing to the great crowd about the instruments it is doubtful whether the attempt will be successful The eclipse was visible all over the city and was very plain at all stages to the naked eye There was not a cloud to be seen in the sky and all during the early part of the evening the moon shone much brighter than usual a phenomenon which nearly always attends the eclipse Large crowds of people witnessed the total eclipse and nearly everyone in the city saw the earlier stages of it In addition to the telescope at the Alta Vista hotel, donated the use of this telescope to the public The eclipse began at 8 17 p m and was visible from all parts of the American continent from Europe Africa and the Atlantic and Pacific oceans

At 10 10 the total eclipse began and continued until 11 8 The eclipse ended at 12 50

"Yes, it came up to my expectations," said Prof Loud when asked about the eclipse "but there were one or two phenomena attendant with it that were not looked for During the total eclipse there was a dark strip across the shadow of the earth which appeared much darker than the other portion of the shadow This was almost horizontal and made the moon look as though there were two bright triangles on the right side of it I am at loss to account for this unless at some point in the atmosphere of the earth there has been a huge bank of clouds which might serve to cause the phenomenon The reddish glow seen when the moon was at a total eclipse is caused by the refrangibility of the earth's atmosphere If the planet on which we live had no atmosphere at the total eclipse there would have been no moon visible, but the atmosphere of the earth served to refract the light of the sun around the earth onto the moon and gave the reddish glow which was noticed by everyone The earth itself is about four times the size of the moon, but the position of the sun earth and moon have reduced the size of the shadow of the earth to three times the size of the moon, the last-named planet being 240 000 miles from the earth"

Five eclipses of the sun and moon occur this year, four of which have already occurred. An eclipse of the moon occurred on April 3 which was visible only from Asia and a small portion of Europe A small solar eclipse occurred on April 8 which was invisible in this country Another one occurred on May 7 which was only visible from the Island of New Zealand The last eclipse of the year will occur on the 30th of this month, a partial eclipse which will be visible from Asia and Europe only.

Several people last night reported having seen a small star near the moon during the eclipse but this was not noticed by Prof Loud and no reason could be given for its position

Good Heavens, I hope that bear can read!"

LAND VALUES, IMPROVEMENTS AND SOCIAL VALUES.

THE INCONSISTENCY and unreasonableness of the Bucklin tax system are evident in many different ways.

It proposes to permit the counties and the legislature to establish land and franchise taxation, but it permits them to do this only in part, retaining the old system for two-thirds of the state taxation in any event and making necessary the continuance of the present expensive system of assessment, tax rolls and valuations in addition to the new ones.

It offers to lay a double burden of taxation upon franchises in public ways and to exempt from taxation other franchises. Thus railways and street car companies would be unfairly burdened while bank and insurance companies would go free.

It is defended by its advocates on the absurd ground that it is merely permissive and therefore not responsible for the evils that may result from its adoption, and upon the ground that it is local option in taxation, regardless of the fact that the state constitution is established to prevent injury to the general community from the hasty or erratic action of a single county or city.

But the inconsistency and unreasonableness of the Bucklin tax system is shown when its consideration of the three subjects of land values, social value and improvements.

This is a theoretical discussion, not a practical one. But if the Bucklin bill is correct in its theory it cannot be successful in practice.

The Bucklin bill separates real estate values and would tax land and improvements. The Bucklin tax system taxes land and exempts improvements.

Under the present system there is also a valuation on land and a valuation on improvements. In the cities this is a simple matter. The vacant lot is the land, the building on it is the improvement. In the country the division is a complex one, because there are so many different things to enter into the problem. The farmer has not only his house and barn, but there are fences, irrigating or drainage ditches, roads and bridges, fruit trees and berry bushes, growing crops, increased or diminished fertility of the soil resulting from manuring or crop exhaustion, and many other things all of which affect the problem of values and which must be considered either as land or as an "improvement."

But under the present system it does not matter much where the line is drawn, or the reason that the farmer pays taxes on the total of land and improvements and all at the same rate.

But under the Bucklin system it would be necessary to separate land from improvements in taxing the one and leaving the other untaxed. How is this to be done?

In the city the problem is a difficult one. The lot at the corner of Pike's Peak avenue and Nevada avenue bears the Mining Exchange building. The construction of that building has increased the value of the ground upon which it stands and of the adjoining lots. The owner of the property pays a tax on the lot and the owner of the land adjoining pays a proportionate tax upon his lot. Besides that each owner pays a tax upon the buildings on the lots proportionate to the value of the buildings.

But if improvements are to be exempted then the land must be taxed as though the building had never been erected. For if the land is taxed additionally because of the building then the exemption of the building is only a pretense and the new system would not differ in reality from the old.

But if the lot on which the Mining Exchange building is located is to be taxed as though that building had not been erected then the adjoining lot and all other lots in Colorado Springs must be valued and taxed as though the Mining Exchange had never been erected and as though all other buildings had not been erected. For if these buildings were to be considered then the valuation and tax would be in reality upon the improvements and not upon the land.

Query.—What would be the land value of the Colorado Springs townsite if there were no improvements?

To avoid this difficulty the single taxation advocate creates what he calls the social value and it is to be presumed that the Bucklin system proposes to tax social values.

Social value as it is usually understood is the value that attaches to a piece of property as the result of the aggregation of population and industry at that locality. The corner of Pike's Peak and Nevada avenues for instance is valuable because there are a certain number of persons within a convenient distance with whom it is desirable to do business and because of the increasing number of such persons it has been profitable for someone to hold that land and to pay taxes upon it even though unimproved and finally as a result of such holding through foresight or enterprise or good luck the owner has profited thereby. This profit is what is called "the unearned increment."

But under the present system the owner of the land itself which is improved or unimproved has been paying taxes not only upon its own value but also upon the ever increasing value due to improvements in its vicinity, and also upon the value due to increased social values in the community. The owner of the land has been taxed for water works and sewers and street lights and schools and policemen and even judges, councilmen and state government, none of which has been of the slightest benefit to his land as land and the land has at all times been for sale to anyone who cared to pay the price and take the chances of getting a final profit on the investment. And other landowners who have been taking a similar chance elsewhere have been perhaps less fortunate and have been obliged to sell their land at a loss. Where one man has grown rich by speculation in real estate (in social values if you please) a dozen have grown poor. There is no monopoly in land, and the way to its acquirement is always open.

"Social value" is not something that the owner of unimproved land or of land as apart from improvements has won by cheating from his fellow citizens. He has been paying taxes on it right along. If his taxes are too low that is the fault of the assessor, not of the legislature. Why should the building owner who also profits by social value be exempt, while the land owner pays double?

What is true of the city is to a greater degree true of the village and still more true of the country. The land value, apart from the improvement, is the value of the wild fruit and the roots that the savage may gather with his hands under natural conditions unchanged and uncontrolled. There is no justice in taxing the result of the work of the ploughman or the fencebuilder or the sower or the gardener and not that of the mason or carpenter. And the "social value" of the farm is dependent upon and inseparable from the improvements on that and other farms in the neighborhood, the railroads and the "improvements" in neighboring towns and cities.

There is only one point at which the separation between land and improvements can be made and that is the point at which improvement begins. If the separation is made there, then an acre of land in the center of Colorado Springs is worth the same as an acre 25 miles east of here and should pay the same tax.

If the object is to tax "social values," that is accomplished under the present system and there is no reason to believe that it would be done more effectively under the new.

The Bucklin system, whatever its pretenses may be, does not and cannot tax land exclusively and exempt improvements entirely. All that it can do is to exempt some improvements and tax others more correspondingly. It would do this by means of guesses at valuations which would inevitably differ in different counties and in different assessments in the same county.

Instead of simplifying assessments it would greatly complicate them.

The theory of the Bucklin system is wrong, its practice would be immensely dangerous.

Colorado cannot afford to engage in any such experiment at the present time, and the inevitable dangers are many times too great to be balanced by the very uncertain benefits promised by the advocates of this measure.

A SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN.

ONE of the most successful meetings of the present campaign was held by the Republicans in Pueblo on Thursday evening. The principal speaker was Mr. F. E. Brooks, the candidate for congressman-at-large, who made a most decided hit with his audience and was enthusiastically applauded.

The Pueblo meeting is an additional evidence of the strength of Mr. Brooks' campaign. Wherever he appears he leaves no doubt in the minds of his hearers of his ability to fitly represent the state of Colorado in congress, while the additional fact that he is a Republican, a member of the majority party at Washington and the only one that can or does ever accomplish anything toward the progress of the nation, is a most powerful argument in his favor.

Both personally and politically Mr. Brooks is an able and a safe representative of this state, and the people will make no mistake in sending him to Washington to look after their interests in the house of representatives and in the councils of the Republican party.

The careful consideration of the members of the strike commission appointed by President Roosevelt increases confidence in its fairness and its ability to reach a determination of the points at issue in a manner that will insure general approval. All the parties to the controversy are well represented and the balance of power is held by men of acknowledged ability, fairness and honor. A grave responsibility rests upon the commission and the general belief grows that it will be worthily borne.

MINERS' WAGES INCREASED.

THE COLORADO Fuel & Iron company has just made an announcement of considerable interest to its employes in Colorado and New Mexico. On Wednesday notices were posted in most of its mines announcing an increase in wages amounting in some instances to 25 per cent or more than a dollar a day for the best class of miners.

This increase is purely voluntary on the part of the company, there having been no demand for it on the part of the employes, and the cause of the increase is stated to be the increased cost of living and the general prosperity of this company and of the west.

This generous act on the part of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company serves to increase the public esteem in which that company is held and is additional evidence of the advantage to this state in keeping its management in the hands of those who are doing so much for the welfare of their employes and of the community in which they are located.

If you have not registered attend to it at once. It is the duty of every citizen of the state to cast a vote for what he believes to be the interests of the state. No one can vote who is not registered.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

Foolish Methods.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

Vituperation is no argument. Abuse is not convincing, nor does it add strength to any cause. It would appear that legitimate arguments have been exhausted when the supporters of the Bucklin single tax amendment resort to the old demagogic method of arousing class prejudices—appealing to the poor against the prosperous. When it has reached a point where the strongest reason given for supporting the Bucklin amendment is that the business element, the property owners and the investing classes are opposed to it, their case is indeed a weak one. All know that it is through the enterprise of those with capital large and small that the state has been developed and upon their success rests the prosperity of the wage earner.

Capital without the assistance of labor is helpless. Neither can succeed alone. Each is absolutely essential to the other.

This being the case, why should the supporters of the Bucklin amendment resort to such specious arguments as the above, and then add insult to injury by publicly advertising those opposed to the amendment as land grabbers, tax dodgers, franchise grabbers and seats of the trust, etc., in an attempt to mislead the unthinking to join their ranks. How can they hope to succeed by such methods? Does not Mr. Dalton's most significant act of a lost cause.

FROM THE PRESS OF THE NATION.

The Attorney General on Trusts.

(Chicago Journal.)

The humorous side of Attorney General Knox's remarks last night at Pittsburg [illegible] of course will be widely enjoyed. It presents the important question of making out of the great modern problem for this and clearly and shows that congress has ample power to legislate concerning them.

The attorney general challenged the proposition that we hopelessly helpless under our system of government to deal with these evils problems. He maintained that the 8th remains with congress and extended to its scope as far as with the interstate commerce.
